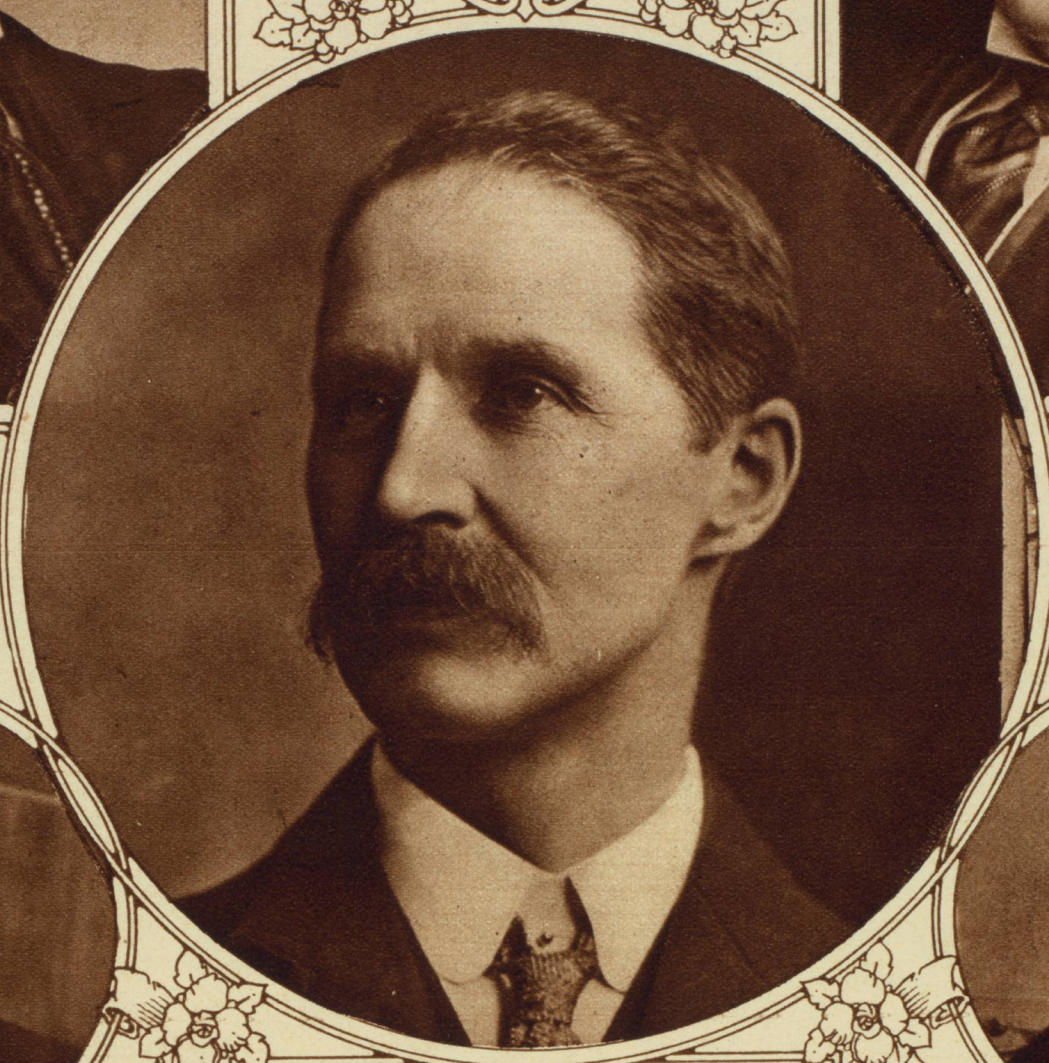
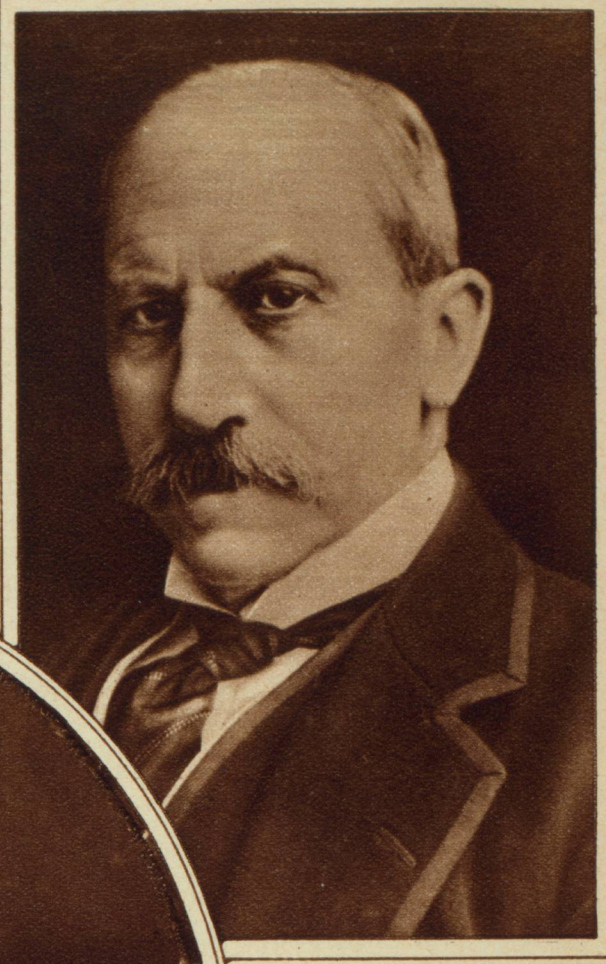
British Statesmen and Diplomats Prominent During the War.

LORD CURZON,
member of the Lloyd George Cabinet, and delegate to the Peace Conference.



ANDREW BONAR LAW,
Chancellor of the Exchequer and spokesman for the Government in the House of Commons.



LORD MILNER,
British War Secretary, succeeding Lord Derby. Has been in British Cabinet since 1916.

SIR ERIC GEDDES, head of the British Admiralty, whose rise in politics has been meteoric.
(© Harris & Ewing.)

LORD ROBERT CECIL,
son of Lord Salisbury, and British Minister of Blockade since 1917.

VISCOUNT JAMES BRYCE, eminent historian and publicist, and head of commission that investigated Belgian atrocities.

JAN CHRISTIAN SMUTS, conqueror of German East Africa, and the most powerful figure in South Africa.

LORD READING,
Special Commissioner to the United States following death of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice.