

Men Upon Whom
Germany Pinned
Her Hopes of Military Victory

GEN. SIXT VON ARNIM, the defeat of whose forces in the fighting before Ypres April 29, 1918, was crushing.

GEN. VON EICHHORN, commander of the German forces in the Ukraine who was assassinated while driving through Kiev, 1918.

GEN. VON MACKENSEN, dashing cavalry officer, who afterward became a great infantry commander and won victories in Russia and Rumania.

GEN. VON HUTIER, originator of the "Hutier" tactics that first achieved marked success in the taking of Riga.

GEN. VON KATHEN, commander of one of the German armies in the great offensive of March 21, 1918.

GEN. VON QUAST, who gained distinction in the fighting between Armentieres and La Bassee on the Flanders front.

GEN. H. K. VON WINTERFELD, one of the German envoys who signed the armistice at Rethondes, France, Nov. 11, 1918.
(© International Film Service.)

GEN. VON HAUSEN, leader of one of the German armies in the first year of the war.