

60TH NEW YORK DEPARTMENT OF CUBA.

Will Remain at Huntsville Until Transports are Ready.

GARRISONS ARE REDUCED.

Only 12,000 Men Instead of 24,000, Going to Havana Province.

NOT TO LAND AT CIENFUEGOS.

Troops' Health Would be Endangered if They Disembarked at That Point—Miles Not Consulted About Changes.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Sixty-ninth New York is under orders to move to Savannah, from thence to Cuba. At the Adjutant-General's office to-night it is said that the Sixty-ninth will remain at Huntsville until the Quartermaster's Department has made all arrangements for transporting it and other regiments from Savannah to Cuba. The department has now only two transports ready. The Adjutant-General's assistants think the Sixty-ninth will be at Huntsville for a week or ten days.

The War Department to-day made several important changes in its Cuban policy. It was decided to abandon Cienfuegos as a port of embarkation and headquarters for General Wilson's command now at Macon. It was further decided to send only 12,000 troops to Havana Province instead of 24,000, and these are to be quartered in tents instead of barracks. Telegraphic orders covering the changed conditions were sent to all the officers concerned, and subsistence and quartermaster officers have been instructed to attend to the transportation, clothing and accommodation involved in the latest arrangement.

All this was done without consultation with General Miles. The abandonment of Cienfuegos comes as a surprise, but it is based, it is understood, on the representations made by the army surgeons who have never ceased their warnings that the hygienic conditions in the vicinity of Cienfuegos will prove disastrous to the troops. Secretary Alger has provisionally chosen another point where Wilson's troops may land, but the final decision is deferred pending further inquiry, which will be conducted by Colonel Frank J. Hecker. Secretary Alger has given nothing on the subject beyond advising General Wilson in indirect terms that Cienfuegos will not be occupied before January 1.

General Miles evidently knew nothing of the message to General Wilson. He felt somewhat gratified that Cienfuegos had been abandoned, since it was in the line of his recommendations or at least of his views.

EASTMENT PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT.

Former Brooklyn Official Admits That He Stole From the City While Under Commissioner Willis.

Edward Eastment, another of the indicted Brooklyn officials, pleaded guilty yesterday to grand larceny in the second degree, and will be sentenced on November 28. The maximum penalty in his case is five years.

SORRY HE HAD TO SENTENCE HIM.

Magistrate Cornell Regretfully Sends a Paroled Prisoner Back to Elmira Reformatory on a Woman's Complaint.

In allowing George Berton, of No. 301 West Twenty-eighth street, to be taken back to the Elmira Reformatory yesterday on a complaint of having violated his parole, Magistrate Cornell, in the Jefferson Market Court, said he thought the Reformatory authorities did not investigate such complaints and that in the present instance there was some ground for investigation.

ALFORD ARRESTED AT PRISON GATE.

Millionaire's Son Serves Two Years and Now Must Face a Forgery Charge.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Allen L. Alford, twenty-one years old, was arrested at the gates of San Quentin Prison to-day just as he had gained his liberty, after having served a two years' term of imprisonment for a forgery done in Los Angeles. It is alleged that Alford passed two bogus drafts on the First National Bank of this city. The drafts were for $200 each, and were drawn on W. H. Allen, of Philadelphia.

"BIG SIX" CALLS ON THE MAYOR.

A committee from Typographical Union No. 6 called on Mayor Van Wyck yesterday to complain that printing contracts had been let by the Board of Education to a concern that did not pay the union rates. The Mayor said that the Board of Education was not influenced by any act of his, and the best thing the printers could do was to bring their complaint to the attention of the School Board.

GRAY HAIRS FOR A MOTHER CAME IN A SINGLE NIGHT.

Mrs. Kerrigan's Locks Whited by the Kidnapping of Her Little Boy.

DESCRIPTION OF THE KIDNAPPED BOY. My little boy is short for his age. He inherits his stature from his father. He is chubby and round. His actions are as quick as a whip. He has curly hair and hazel eyes. He has a dimple on the right side of his face, which shows plainly only on that side when he smiles. He is ten years of age. When he was stolen he wore a suit of dark clothes. His coat was a double-breasted sack. He wore short knee pants and dark stockings.—Statement dictated to a Journal reporter by Mrs. James J. Kerrigan.

MRS. JAMES J. KERRIGAN

JAMES W. KERRIGAN, KIDNAPPER

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kerrigan, Kidnappers. Each accuses the other of taking away their eldest child, Jerome, while the husband says the custody of the boy was awarded him along with a decree of divorce.

SAYS HIS FATHER DID IT.

The Wife Blames Another Woman and the Husband Says He Has a Divorce.

It will be hard for ten-year-old Jerome Edward Kerrigan to forget the experience he is now undergoing. His father steals him from his mother one day and his mother steals him from his father the next. The last time Jerome Edward was suddenly lifted from the paths of his own choosing was Sunday, as he was coming out of St. Mary's Church, at Court and Luquer streets, Brooklyn. His father did it. But Wednesday last Jerome, who was at the time living with his father at No. 83 Perry street, New York City, was kidnapped by his mother and taken to where she has been residing of late, at No. 191 West Ninth street, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Kerrigan told a journal reporter yesterday afternoon that her hair had turned gray Sunday night, and her neighbors agree. She said that she had no white hairs prior to the last disappearance of her son. She has them now. The Journal man saw them.

Mrs. Kerrigan says her husband has been stolen from her by Jessie Shaw, her former servant, who has been the chief cause of her unhappiness. Kerrigan says that Jessie Shaw is now his lawful wife; that he has been divorced from his former wife on statutory grounds, and that his present spouse was never in her life a servant of the first Mrs. Kerrigan.

Mrs. Kerrigan says: "Look at my hair. It is gray. It was black before Sunday night. This woman (Jessie Shaw) was formerly my servant in Chicago. She and her mother took my husband from me. I married this man when I was fourteen. He got some smart man to write to me. He deceived me. He could neither read nor write. But after the children came I thought I could live with him. He is a confidence man at Loft's, No. 64 Barclay street, New York City. 'I am a bondsman for Kerrigan,' said George Loft, of the firm of Loft & Co., 64 Barclay street, New York City. Mrs. Kerrigan calls Miss Shaw. I have seen the certificate. He is divorced from Mrs. Kerrigan. She and her mother have charges against his former wife. The courts have given Kerrigan possession of the two eldest children, Jerome and Joyce. He will appear Wednesday and all will be well. He authorizes me to say that his former wife is merely seeking revenge."

ISLIP RICH MEN NOT ON TAX ROLL.

Property Owners Take Their Complaints Against Roosevelt and Others Into Court.

The dispute over the personal assessment rolls in the town of Islip has reached the Supreme Court. The assessors, Patrick Whelan, J. E. Van Orden and Van Buren Hulise, are accused by three taxpayers, H. T. Rogers, I. H. Green and S. T. Green, with unfair discrimination in making out the assessment rolls. They claim that there are many rich people in the town whose names should appear on the rolls, among them R. B. Roosevelt (now deceased), uncle of Governor-elect Roosevelt; R. B. Roosevelt, Jr., John Roosevelt, W. E. Post, Assemblyman-elect R. H. Post, Charles Post and F. G. Bourne. The latter is a reputed millionaire and some of his horses won prizes at the Horse Show in New York.

AUXILIARY WAR SHIP ON TRIAL.

The Admiral Dewey Makes More Than the Required Speed at Boston.

Boston, Nov. 21.—The new steamer Admiral Dewey, belonging to the Boston Fruit Company, in her four hours' Government speed trial to-day, made an average of 15.41 knots an hour over a measured course in Massachusetts Bay, from Boston Lightship to Cape Ann. The steamer is the first of the auxiliary cruiser class of merchant vessels to be built under the law authorizing the work.

WOMAN COULDN'T HELP STEALING.

Mrs. Ryan Says Husband's Death Drove Her to Drink and Kleptomania.

Mrs. Ryan was attired in a neat black costume, and also wore a long mourning veil. Judge Schatz sentenced her to six months in the Kings County Penitentiary. According to information secured by the police, Mrs. Ryan has been visiting different towns in Westchester County during the past six months under the guise of an agent for the New York Charity Organization Society, in order to gain admittance to charity fairs and residences. When she departed, sealable boxes, pocketbooks and other valuables also disappeared.

IDENTIFIED AS DEAD, YET ALIVE.

Jacobson and Carlson, of the Sunken Tug Plymouth, Are in Portland, Me.

JOINED ANOTHER CREW.

Went Ashore to Ship with Revenue Cutter Woodbury, Thus Escaping Death.

MEN BURIED ARE UNKNOWN.

Captain Found Letters to Jacobson and Carlson in Wreck, on Which He Based His Identification.

Martin Jacobson and Alfred Carlson, the two men who were supposed to have perished in the hold of the tug Plymouth when she sank, at the foot of Court street, Brooklyn, a week ago Saturday, have turned up safe and sound, at Portland, Me. The two men who were buried remain unidentified. The Plymouth is a large, ocean-going tug belonging to the Liberty Dredging Company, of No. 171 Broadway, Manhattan. She was in excellent condition, having just come out of dry dock.

The tug sank at 2 a. m. on November 12, carrying down with her the deckhand and fireman. The boat was raised by the Merritt Wrecking Company, and so cause could be found for the sinking. The bodies were taken to the undertaking establishment of Michael Leahy, No. 521 Court street, and buried last Wednesday in Mount Olivet Cemetery. Letters in Swedish were found in the tug, addressed to both men, which helped to establish their identity.

When the police of Brooklyn learned yesterday of the dispatch from Portland, saying that Carlson and Jacobson were alive, they began a rigid investigation into the circumstances of the sinking. Coroner Berger declared that he would not order the bodies of the two men exhumed unless the individuals came to ask it.

According to the dispatch from Portland Jacobson and Carlson declared they had left the tug to join the crew of the revenue cutter Woodbury. They had gone ashore in New York, and the cutter went to Portland without them. They declared they knew nothing about the sinking of the Plymouth.

Doings of Noted Persons.

President McKinley was busy yesterday. The first delegation to call on him was from the District of Columbia. The visitors asked him to discuss in his annual message suffrage for the District of Columbia. Next came five Indians—Sagoy, Sagoy, Sagoy, Sagoy, Sagoy, Sagoy.

Secretary Bliss, of the Interior Department, was at his desk yesterday for the first time in a week. He has been in New York under the care of his physician. The Secretary gave audience to Senators Faulkner and Mason yesterday morning, and several representatives, and then, excluding himself from visitors, devoted the remainder of the day to his annual report to Congress.

Ex-Governor William H. Sims, late Assistant Secretary of the Interior, and chief aide in Washington to the President, has sold his residence at the corner of Twelfth and M streets, and will settle in Birmingham, Ala. His New York associate paid $78,000 for the property.

Senator James K. Jones left Washington for New York last night to attend the meetings of the Senate sub-Committee on Finance. Senator Jones before leaving expressed the opinion that there would be no financial legislation this Winter, despite the promises of the Republicans.

Secretary of the Navy Long left Washington last night for his home at Hingham, Mass. He intends to take another short vacation and spend Thanksgiving with his family unless called back by a resumption of hostilities with Spain.

Chief Clerk Michael, of the State Department, was at his desk in Washington yesterday after a campaigning tour in Nebraska. He reports that Assistant Secretary of War, Dickinson, is desiring great strength in the contest for the United States Senatorship from that State.

A cotton-mill worker tells of some pretty expensive misery. "I am thirty-five years of age," he says, "and have been bothered with indigestion and dyspepsia about five years. Have had several doctors, but none of them ever helped me any. I spent several hundred dollars for doctors and medicines, but instead of getting better I got worse. Finally I heard of Ripans Tablets, and decided to try them. After I had used them two weeks I commenced to get better. In three months I was like a new man. I believe Ripans are the only sure cure for dyspepsia."
