

DR. KAYNE TELLS OF HIS 3 A. M. RAID

Denies That He Wore a False Beard or Had a Crowbar.

WANTED ONLY THE CHILD.

Attalie Claire, His Wife, Writes a Letter Calling Him a Thief.

DOES NOT DEMAND HER BABY.

Says She Will Never Marry Lawyer Kaffenburgh, Because She Has a Sweetheart in England Anxious to Wed.

Exasperated by the statement that he wore false whiskers in kidnaping his child, Dr. Alfred Kayne told last night just how he did it, down to the minutest detail. His story differs very materially from the one told by his wife, Attalie Claire, and her lawyer, Abraham Kaffenburgh, who were in her room together when the husband made his sensational entrance. Dr. Kayne gave out his statement at the residence of his friend, Dr. Arthur M. Kane, at No. 347 West Thirty-fourth street. The two doctors are not related. Dr. Kane was with him when he made his raid on his wife's apartments, discovered Mr. Kaffenburgh and abducted his child. "I separated from my wife last October," said Dr. Kayne, "although I had had trouble with her before. She was singing at that time, or had just concluded an engagement, at the American Theatre. Six weeks ago I employed detectives to watch her. One of the detectives occupied the room immediately above hers in the boarding house at No. 74 Madison avenue. I decided to say that the nurse who was taking care of my child was not spying on my wife for me, as has been erroneously stated. "Saturday night I learned that my wife and Kaffenburgh were out. Dr. Kane and I went to the boarding house in a cab, reaching there at ten minutes before 11 o'clock. We went to the room the detective was occupying and waited. We did not wear false whiskers, nor did we have crowbars or jimmys. That story was told by my wife to make me appear ridiculous. "It was nearly 2 o'clock when my wife and Kaffenburgh returned. An hour and a half later we broke into the room. I lit the gas. My wife begged me to spare her life, and all that she asked was that I should not object to my taking the child away. Dr. Kane called a carriage, the nurse packed the nurse's trunk, and the little one and we left the house. There were several of the boarders in the hall while the controversy was going on, and they saw all that passed, for I left the door open. "This afternoon I received a letter from my wife, written yesterday morning, evidently within a few hours of her exposure, in which she calls me a thief and asks for the return of property she says I took from her room. She says she is now in the hands of Mrs. Attalie Claire Kayne, after being requested to leave the boarding house, went to the Imperial Hotel at 5 o'clock in the morning, and had breakfast, after which she went to the Marlborough Hotel, still accompanied by Kaffenburgh. "After her husband had given out his statement, she was seen by a Journal reporter, and talked freely. Her conversation smacked of the Bowers. She denied every word of the story told by her husband. "The Wife Seems Cheerful. "I have grounds for divorce against him," she said, "and will fight any suit he brings. I have pawned over $100,000 worth of diamonds to help him. He is not as wealthy as they say he is. I think his bank roll was stuck up about $30,000 strong. His property in Nashville is all he owns, and it is assessed at that figure. He can't sell it without my signature to the deed, and that's why he is trying to shake me. He may have his divorce if he will give me back my baby. "Is it true," she was asked, "that when you divorce your husband or your husband divorces you Mr. Kaffenburgh will make you his bride, as he is said to have promised to do?" "Not if I know it," was the reply. "I've got a sweetheart in England I'm going to marry." "She said that she had made no plans for the future. Mr. Kaffenburgh did not call on her during the day. He attended strictly to his duties in Howe & Hummel's law offices. "Dr. Kayne, with his four-year-old child, Attalie and a nurse were at the Manhattan House last night. They were not registered.

DR. DOTY REAPPOINTED PORT HEALTH OFFICER.

Governor Roosevelt Says It is a Pleasure to Give Office to So Able an Official.

Albany, Jan. 16.—Governor Roosevelt has reappointed Dr. Alvah H. Doty Health Officer of the Port of New York. The Governor discovered this morning that Dr. Doty's term expired January 1 of this year and immediately made the reappointment. The Governor to-day, in speaking of the appointment, said it was one of the nice things about being Governor, which offset some things about the position. He said that the most agreeable—that he was in a position to reappoint so able an official as Dr. Doty.

TO KEEP ROBERTS OUT OF CONGRESS.

He Is Not a Citizen, Declares Dr. McMillan at the Congregational Club.

THE FIGHT THAT WILL WIN.

It Must Be Waged in the Eastern States and Abroad, the Speaker Said.

IS A CONFESSED POLYGAMIST.

Convicted of the Crime and Sentenced to the Penitentiary, He Now Seeks to Enter the National Legislature.

"The fight against Mormonism must be waged in the Eastern States, and in all Christian nations. The propaganda cannot live alone in Utah. They get their recruits from outside of that State."—Rev. Dr. A. J. McMillan, for ten years a resident of Utah. Mormonism and polygamy were the principal topics discussed last night at the meeting of the Congregational Club, held at the St. Denis Hotel. There were a great many women present, and 166 persons sat down to the club dinner. Randall Spaulding presided. The Rev. Dr. A. J. McMillan, who has lived for ten years among the Mormons in Utah, was the principal speaker of the evening. "Roberts," he said, "is a confessed polygamist. The enabling act of Congress in admitting Utah as a State has been violated. He is not therefore a citizen, and I claim that that ought to unseat him. "Congress is the judge of the qualifications of its members, and it has declared that polygamy is a disqualification. I think this another conclusive reason why Roberts should not be given a seat in Congress. "If you confined the propaganda of the Mormons to Utah it would fail. They get their recruits from outside of that State. The fight against Mormonism must be waged in these Eastern States, and in all other Christian nations. Their propaganda cannot live alone in Utah. They now comprise an absolute monarchy. "In 1875 Brigham Young prophesied that in time Utah would be represented by a Mormon in the national Congress. This is a sample of the power of these men who have declared that they would throw their votes to the one that would advance their ideas and desires. "The speaker said that the strongest defenders of polygamy were the women, who have been taught that it is their only hope for exaltation. The Rev. Josiah Strong, president of the League for Social Service, said: Mormonism is the 'ranked kind of religion and lower than Buddhism. Out of Mormonism in its own stronghold and it will die."

FATHER CHINQUY IS DEAD.

Famous as a Converted Priest and Temperance Lecturer.

Montreal, Jan. 16.—Father Chinquy, "the Apostle of Temperance," passed away peacefully this morning. He died in the Protestant faith. He was born in 1800, ordained to the priesthood in 1838, moved to Illinois in 1854, and founded the village of St. Anne. In controversy over the latter he was defeated by Abraham Lincoln. In 1860 Father Chinquy and 2,000 of his villagers became Presbyterians. Father Chinquy then became a lecturer and traversed the world.

ELITA PROCTOR OTIS OWES $36,331 AND HAS NOTHING.

Her Nominal Assets Are $3,270, but They Are All Pledged for Money Loaned.

Elita Proctor Otis, the actress, who lives at No. 77 West Sixty-eighth street, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday, through her attorneys, A. L. & S. F. Jacobs. The total known liabilities are $36,331, of which $2,322 are secured and $34,009 unsecured. There are many claims in the liabilities in which the amount is marked unknown. The nominal assets amount to $3,270, consisting of jewels, $2,500, and Catherine Bollinger, $22, Mr. Sinclair held in the Spring of 1898, and the petitioner believes he still holds, jewels worth $2,500 as security for money loaned to her three years ago. Catherine Bollinger holds $20 worth of feathers, furs and hats as security for her claim. Among the unsecured creditors are Julia M. Otis, $20,000; Merrill B. Mills, Detroit, Mich., $5,000; Frank H. Baldwin, Cincinnati, $3,000; Hendricks E. Melville, $1,000—these for money loaned.

Kate Claxton No Longer a Manager.

THE actress retired last night from the management of the Park Theatre in Brooklyn. "I experimented," she said, "and have decided that I prefer the artistic end of a theatrical career to the end that enforces a vulgar consideration of money—the controlling of lights and fires, the paying of ushers and the printing of programmes. Miss Claxton took the Park Theatre for five weeks, and decided to submit it at the end of three. She will go on the road again and star in "The Two Orphans" and something else, if the public will accept her in any other play.

The Silver

If your table and your mantels are fully supplied, this will not interest you;—pass on to the next item. Otherwise,—read, and read carefully. It means much to you. Under ordinary circumstances silverware selling is one of the exact sciences. Prices are staple. You know this. A tea-set, a water-pitcher, a syrup jug, a set of individual butter-plates, have cost you a known price and fixed within cents. Sometimes you have found small discounts on small lots, and you had to hunt to find what you wanted, or (more likely) found everything except what you wanted.

Now we offer thousands of pieces, comprising everything known that is made in silver plate for table and mantel use and ornament, and cut the price down by a third, a half and three-quarters. Detail is not necessary,—this statement covers everything. It is the most important silverware movement we have ever conducted or known. We have swept four of the largest American factories clear of their over-production. It is advisable to add this, however,—we cannot promise a free choice after to-day. Almost anything you wish now, but if you could see the selling you'd recognize that the opportunity was fleeting.

The New Cotton Dry goods Dress Fabrics

prophets said months ago that 1899 would see the largest cotton dress goods business in recent mercantile history. All appearances point to the fulfillment of the prophecy.

We were among these seers and we have made some vast preparations for the expected demand. It is already upon us. Even these chill and dismal January days see very lively selling in the summery organdies and plumetis and lawns and dimities.

We have tried to make our assortment not only the largest,—which is an easy matter,—but the choicest. We'll leave it to you. The present showing is but a good beginning, yet you could spend hours in looking it over. It is full of new ideas.

TO=DAY!

Parlor "J," Astor House Committee on Distribution, Messages and Papers of the Presidents.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14, 1899. James D. Richardson, Treasurer, Editor; Ainsworth R. Spofford, General Secretary.

To the Citizens of New York:—The Committee on Distribution in the matter of "Messages and Papers of the Presidents," has received so many requests for application blanks at the Committee Rooms in Washington that the detail of distribution has become quite a problem. In order to relieve this somewhat, and in answer to many suggestions from New York that this handsome and valuable set of books be exhibited in some convenient place, and to facilitate the filing of applications, the Committee has resolved to exhibit the work on Tuesday, January 17th, at the temporary rooms of the Committee in New York, and each day thereafter for one week, unless the special allotment for New York City is exhausted before that time.

The unprecedented demand for this work is a striking illustration of the keen interest now more than ever before taken by our citizens in everything that is truly American; for this great work, ten superb volumes, forms a true library of American history and American patriotism, containing as it does the official utterances of the greatest Americans—those great utterances in which the National Executive has brought forward for the consideration of Congress and the American people, one after the other, all the great measures of National interest. The vast expense of gathering together this complete collection of state papers has been borne by the Government, and the volumes are now being distributed at a trifle over the cost of manufacture and distribution.

The volumes may be seen on Tuesday, January 17th, and applications will be accepted and filed for shipment in the order received. Special representatives of the Committee will be on hand from 8:30 A. M. to 7 P. M. each day.

For the convenience of readers who cannot call at the Committee Rooms, special arrangement has been made whereby a set of the work will be set aside and reserved, pending examination of samples which will be sent. In such cases a deposit of ONE DOLLAR is required as a guarantee of good faith, which amount will be refunded if regular application is not made. Mail applications will be treated in regular order, according to the hour of posting.

At the Committee Rooms, Parlor J, Astor House. Committee on Distribution.

Ainsworth R. Spofford General Secretary.
