

MISS MARLOWE'S REGAL GOWN IN "COLINETTE."

In the third act of her latest success, "Colinette," at the Knickerbocker Theatre, Miss Julia Marlowe wears what unobtrusively may be called one of the most beautiful and most magnificent gowns ever seen on the American stage. It is cut in Empire style, of ivory white satin, and is studded all over with white stones and silver paillettes.

FAT DANGERS

DEGENERATION OF TISSUE IS NEARLY ALWAYS A RESULT OF EXCESSIVE FAT.

FAT BREAKS DOWN HEALTH.

Dr. Edison's New Method of Treatment for Obesity Takes Off and Absorbs Surplus Fat Without Weakening the System.

FREE CONSULTATION AND ADVICE.

If you only knew how dangerous it is to be fat, you would not waste a minute before beginning treatment to cure it.

But you think you are well, and that fat is the sign of it, not knowing that science and experience say otherwise.

Too much of anything is always bad.

Too much fat is worse than many other things.

When fat invades all the tissues of your body, and hangs in flabby folds all around you, it strains your muscles, clogs your heart, lungs and arteries, makes breathing, working and living difficult.

Fat may be healthy, but obesity, which is overfat, is unhealthy.

Obesity shortens life.

Obesity makes living almost unbearable.

Many people have tried to make fat people thin, safely.

Banting, who did all by diet, succeeded in weakening—even killing—many who believed in him blindly.

But since Dr. Edison's scientific treatment has met with such satisfactory success wherever it has been practically tested, no one who appreciates HEALTH will experiment with any other method.

Of course it is well to be careful of what you eat. But starving (which is Banting's way) cannot end in anything but WEAKNESS. Whereas the Edison System, while suggesting MODERATION, actually BUILDS UP YOUR STRENGTH.

The Edison system is based upon the marvelous properties of the waters of a celebrated spring owned by the German Government. These waters are evaporated and the resulting salts form the basis of Dr. Edison's Obesity Salts, which, with his Pills and Abdominal Supporting Safety Band, comprise the treatment about which so much has been heard lately.

These Salts and Pills by their specific action on the system, cause the absorption or burning away of superfluous fat, wherever it has been deposited on the body.

The action naturally begins where the deposit is most unnaturally abundant, which is generally on the hips, abdomen, sides, etc., and leaves those parts where the fat is firmest and healthiest until the natural proportions of the body have been nearly restored.

The action of the Edison System for Reducing Obesity is also to relax the strained muscles, to clear the clogged vital organs, to refresh the system, and to BUILD UP STRENGTH.

No other method of obesity treatment accomplishes those results. Too many are dangerous by their energy in pulling down weight by strong cathartic and other unnatural action. All are apt to leave the skin baggy and wrinkled.

The Edison System, on the other hand, is a natural system, and acts gently and naturally. Not instantly and powerfully, but slowly and gradually, therefore SAFELY and PERMANENTLY. It positively does not leave wrinkles or baggy skin, and is absolutely and actually harmless.

The Dr. Edison Remedies are for sale by druggists, or will be sent express prepaid on receipt of the following prices: Dr. Edison's Obesity Salts, $1.00 per package; Pills, $1.50 per package, or 3 for $4.00; Abdominal Supporting Safety Band, $2.50 up. A complete $5.00 treatment contains sufficient remedies for two months' trial.

'WOMEN NEED LAW,' SAYS M'KELWAY.

The Law Needs Them Less, He Tells the University Woman's Law Class.

PLEADS FOR THE MEN.

"They Carry the White Man's Burden of Suffrage and Do Not Ask Your Aid."

The Woman's Law Class of the New York University yesterday afternoon listened to an address by St. Clair McKelway, which they applauded in spots and smiled at in other spots. Here are some of the lecturer's points at which the young women did not smile:

"It is not always fit or just that women should compete with men. A great civil engineer lately told me his daughter—a very capable painter, married to a man who can be called a great painter—has not taken up the brush since her marriage because she wished neither to compete with her husband nor to be compared with him. Contentment, not competition, comradeship, and not contest was in her thought and purpose. This may be too fine for some, but it struck me as very fine."

"At present, at least, law does not need women so much as some women need a knowledge of law. The legal profession lacks not for variety nor ability nor numbers, though it be recruited only, or mainly, from men. Those women who need a knowledge of law need it more for the protection of their own intelligence, for the cultivation of straight thinking, for the learning of an interesting science, and for the light which it throws upon life in life, and upon life at large, than they need it for the competitive practice of courts."

"In short, ladies, be merciful to men. They are doing the best they can. They carry the white man's burden of suffrage and do not ask your assistance. They let you be the mover behind the voter, greater than the voter himself. They have permitted you to will all you have, to keep all you have, to hold on to all you make and to sell it or mortgage it without any such equivalent to them as dower is to you."

"They would not have you their equals—they would have you their superiors. They would even be willing to certify that they performed their business transactions, separate and apart from the coercion of their wives, if that fiction would add lustre to the glory of your fame. Do not be spiteful toward them. Do not be vindictive toward them—I mean, of course, in your public addresses, in your papers and speeches."

"Do not demand testamentary rights to half their property. So manage them in life that you can get it whole if without their having to die to let you have any. Make life your partner, instead of death your right owner."
