

DEFIED GOLD RAIN TO HEAR BRYAN TALK.

Candidate Cheered by Great Crowds in Iowa and South Dakota.

Forced to Make a Speech at Almost Every Stop Made by His Train.

Tells His Hearers That the Maintenance of the Gold Standard is a Crime Against the People.

SILVER SHOULD NOW BE RESTORED. Mr. Bryan Refers to the Democrats Who Have Bolted Their National Ticket, and Gives Some Reasons for Their "Forced Withdrawal."

Huron, S. D., Oct. 9.—It was raining hard, a chill, cold rain, when William J. Bryan reached Sioux City, Iowa, after an all night's run on the Northwestern road, from Marshalltown, at 10:20 o'clock this morning. He was escorted to the big train shed of the Union Passenger Station, at Sioux City, and, mounted on a truck, addressed an audience of several thousand hurriedly gathered there.

At Sioux City, Mr. Bryan made a somewhat extended address. He said: "If our opponents are right in the declaration that the gold standard ought to be maintained in this country, then the election of an advocate of free coinage would be an injury to the country. If, on the other hand, we are right in our contention that there can be no permanent relief until we have restored silver to its ancient place and permitted it to enter the mints on equal terms with gold, then the maintenance of the gold standard is a crime against the American people. (Applause.)"

In the discussion of a great question like this there are several things which throw light upon the controversy. If you go into court and find a witness who is willing to clearly state what he knows you believe that he is an honest witness. If, on the other hand, you find a witness who deals in ambiguous phrases, who attempts to evade questions and who attempts to cover up his ideas with words of a double meaning, you doubt the honesty and sincerity of the witness.

Plain Speaking and Evasion. So, in a controversy like this, when our opponents are so ready to state what they want, it is not fair to expect you to give your reasons for their faith, you have a right to have confidence in the honesty of their purpose. But when our opponents try to secure a gold standard without doing to advocate it, when they talk about a gold standard when they mean silver, when they mean silver when they mean gold, when they talk about an honest dollar when they mean the most dishonest dollar there is in the land to-day, you have a right to question their honesty.

Men who have a cause in which they believe are not ashamed to state their belief, and when you find written on Republican banners that deceptive phrase, "Sound Money," you have a right to believe that the men who use the term use it because they are not willing to tell the American people what they mean by sound money. (Applause.)

We believe that the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 gives us a more honest money than can be had by the gold standard. We believe in a safe financial system, but we believe that in order to be safe, a financial system must have a foundation broad enough for that system to rest upon. Our opponents who are so ready to maintain whenever foreign nations will consent to our having it, and yet they secretly try to effect to take the gold standard upon the American people.

The Gold Standard. Let me ask this question, and you can repeat it to advocates of the Republican platform: Is the gold standard a good thing? (Cries of "No, no.") My Republican friend says the gold standard is a good thing. I ask him why the Republican party promised to get rid of the gold standard as soon as they could? (Applause.)

Departing from their platform, the Republicans will tell you that gold money because it is good all over the world. My friends, no money is good which rises in value and goes the price of the commodity it is a result of the bondholders. They say the gold dollar is honest. No dollar is honest which rises in value, and gives an unearned advantage to the man who loans money and imposes an unjust burden on the man who agrees to pay it.

There is something necessary in money besides quality. There must be quantity as well as quality in money.

The Republican party tells you to build up a financial structure on gold and then tells you that gold is inviolable. I do not know whether you can get gold in the banks of this city or not. (Cries of "No! No!")

Refuse to Pay Out Gold. I know that in St. Louis some three weeks ago the leading bankers signed and published a statement that they would not be able to furnish gold because of the agitation in favor of silver, but that they thought they would furnish as soon as there was a settlement of the money question.

It is a very real financial system that trembles at the breath of discussion. It is an insecure foundation which slips from under your commercial fabric as soon as anybody begins to agitate. Give us the free coinage of silver and let gold and silver be alike standard money of this country, and I will renounce you that an agitation in favor of the gold standard will destroy the foundation upon which it rests.

Speech at Elk Point. Then the train crossed into South Dakota. At Elk Point several hundred farmers were waiting for the arrival of the candidate, and to those he spoke for two minutes as follows:

You see men who handle corn and raise corn are anxious to raise corn in silver. The people who raise corn have a right to protect themselves and to prevent an additional fall in the price of corn. The more nations there are which demand gold the greater will be the difficulty to get it, and the more of your corn will it buy. If your taxes would fall if you could get silver, as your corn fall, you might be able to get along easier.

I believe the time has come when the farmer is called upon to defend himself and his family and his people around him by the use of the ballot.

'T WAS A SURE ENOUGH HOLD-UP

But Whether It Was Done for Love or Lucre Doesn't Appear, Though Broker Marston Had a Good Fight.

devised upon by our own people, or that we have a financial policy framed in another country and sent over here to be forced upon us whether we want it or not? (Cries of "Not Never!")

The Republican platform does not say that the gold standard is a good thing. It expressly declares that bimetallic is better, and that platform, after pleading the Republican party to try to secure bimetallic in the place of the gold standard tells the people they must endure a gold standard until foreign nations come to our relief.

I am willing to submit any question to the American people and abide by their decision until they reverse that decision at the ballot box, but I am not willing to submit any question, however small, to any foreign nation whatever. (Applause.)

WAS LUM HYPNOTIZED.

Bicycle Dealer of Madison, N. J., Leaves Home and Business with Unknown Man.

Arthur Lum, of Madison, N. J., has gone. He went away the first week in September on a bicycle.

Nobody in Madison, unless it is Mrs. Lum, knows Mr. Lum's whereabouts. She even didn't know for some weeks, for Arthur only left a note telling her he was going away and not to worry. She did worry, though, and so did Miss Lum and Mrs. Brewan, Arthur's sister, because Arthur went away with an Unknown Man. Everybody in Madison knew his name. He was slight, but nobody last Labor Day and made himself useful about Arthur Lum's bicycle store and repair shop, and there he remained until the disappearance.

People, including all of Arthur Lum's relatives, aver that they believe the Unknown Man hypnotized Arthur and led him away. Mr. Russell Lum, Arthur's cousin, freely asserts that he thinks the stranger exercised some hypnotic influence over the departed young man. Others of Lum's friends, who had seen how the Unknown Man controlled Lum's actions, also advocate the hypnotic theory.

LATHROP IS NOT GUILTY:

Governor Morton Has Dismissed Charges Against the Superintendent of State Prisons.

Albany, Oct. 9.—Governor Morton to-day dismissed the charges which have been repeatedly made during the past year and a half against General Austin Lathrop, Superintendent of State Prisons. These charges had been investigated by a Senate committee, who reported in favor of removing the superintendent, but this report was rejected by the Governor because of a lack of specific charge. The matter was then referred to Commissioner A. P. Brown, of Watertown, and the Governor's decision is based on his report.

The accusations against General Lathrop were chiefly that he had been guilty of neglect of duty in permitting violations of the law at the various State prisons. Governor Morton decides that General Lathrop cannot be held responsible for these as his power over the prison officials ended with the wardens, and he had no means of knowing what was done in each institution each day.

Of the alleged irregularities at Sing Sing the Governor says: "There does not seem to be any adequate proof that the management of the prison is subject to serious criticism." Auburn, however, does not escape so easily, for the Governor urges Superintendent Lathrop to hold a rigid investigation of its management.

Rash Wheelman Loses His Life. Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 9.—William H. Hayden, ex-Congressman, and a foreman in the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing room, was killed at the Trinitarian railroad crossing at 4 o'clock by the Boston express.

He was riding a bicycle and tried to sprint across the tracks in front of the train. The fagman warned him, but he did not stop. He was fifty-two years old and leaves a wife and daughter.

NO MONEY FOR WEDDING.

Expectant Bridegroom Kills Himself. Because He Failed to Receive Pecuniary Aid from Home in Time.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Dillard Ragland, twenty-seven years of age, a native of Texas, employed in the Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department, with a rating and salary of a messenger ($80 a month), committed suicide last night by inhaling gas, because he could not raise enough money to go to Atlanta, Ga., to get married next Monday.

He was engaged to Miss Besse Rosamund Gurley, daughter of a widow of Dallas, Tex., and the date and details of his approaching wedding had been announced with a flourish in some of the Atlanta newspapers. Failing to receive pecuniary aid from his relatives in Texas, and having only $5 in his possession, Ragland killed himself.

To-day a telegram came to the dead man from his father in Texas stating that funds for his trip and for his marriage expenses had been placed to his order in a local bank.
