

"HEALER" SCHRADER TO WORK THIS CITY.

Manager Leander Richardson Will Take Charge of His Engagement.

Proposes to Undertake a Forty Days' Fast While Here.

Refuses Money Himself, but His Personal Manager, Berriman, Lets No Profit Escape.

BLESSED HANDKERCHIEFS SOLD. Pictures Also Are Hawked of the "Divine" Layer-On of Hands, Whose Career in the West Has Been Marked by Newspaper Exposures.

In all probability Schrader, the "Divine Healer," will begin an engagement before the hall, the blind of New York City in a few days. The field at Bayonne, N. J., was too small. It was a good thing for the trolley company that carried the crowds from Jersey City, but there are limits, even to the capacity of a trolley line. Schrader is coming where the people are.

Schrader is well known in the West. He claims to be able to heal all the ills of mankind by the laying on of hands. His dress and appearance remind observers of the pictures of Christ. The manager is a smart young man named George Berriman, who was in the newspaper business in Chicago before he met Schrader. Berriman claims that he does his healing without price, but while he doesn't ask personally for money from the people he treats, Berriman never passes an opportunity to sell a picture of Schrader, and he bills Schrader like a circus at every stand, and sells pictures of the healer and handkerchiefs for the benefit of the cause. It is a poor business day when Mr. Berriman and the healer do not manage to accumulate fifty or a hundred dollars of profit. Mr. Berriman's ambition is to get the healer into New York City, and if the newspapers are kinder than the newspapers of the West have been he sees great wealth ahead.

Schrader was born in Wisconsin. He is something over thirty years of age, and has no knowledge of books. He says he was gifted with the power to heal people from his boyhood, and that Schrader, the Colorado "healer," is an imitator. It makes no difference to Schrader what a man's ailment is. By placing his gifted hands on the head, the back and the abdomen of his subject this modern miracle worker asserts he can cure anything. To those who cannot see his power, he issues blessed handkerchiefs. He holds the handkerchief in his hand a moment, muttering some words over it, and then places it in a rubber stamp, fastened in the ink, that prints along the border of the piece of linen the words, "Schrader, Divine Healer." All that is necessary is to "hold it to the affected part."

Schrader's career in the West has been marked by newspaper exposures of his methods. He was ordered to leave Cincinnati recently by the Chief of Police. As a minister in a little Illinois town, a short distance from St. Louis, he passed through some experiences that do not fit well with his alleged divine character.

It is said that Leander Richardson, the theatrical man, will take charge of Schrader's New York engagement. It is not improbable that Schrader will undertake a forty days' fast here.

BOTH CLAIM THE VICTORY. Official Count May Be Necessary to Decide a Dispute Between Mitchell and Walsh.

An official count will probably be necessary to decide who was elected to Congress in the Eighth District on Tuesday. J. Walsh and John Murray Mitchell both claimed the seat yesterday. The returns at Police Headquarters indicate that Mitchell carried the district by over 1,000 plurality. These figures are disputed by Walsh. "I believe that I have been elected," he said yesterday. "And I think that the official count will prove that I am right." Walsh says that the returns at Police Headquarters appear to give Mr. Mitchell a plurality of 500 or 600. That a mistake has been made in tabulating the returns is certain. If the official count proves that Mr. Mitchell has an honest plurality I will cheerfully concede my defeat.

Mr. Mitchell believes that the official count will reduce the plurality still to him. "I understand that Mr. Walsh greatly misunderstands the nature of the last evening. When the canvass is completed my plurality will be increased."

Mitchell's friends met at his headquarters, James and Henry Streets, last night and held a wake for Walsh. They gathered about a coffin in which was a white flag, and smoked long-handled clay pipes in silence.

WHITES AND BLACKS AT WAR. Striking Employees of the Eastman Abattoir Make War on Their Substitutes.

Colored non-union workmen in the employ of the Eastman Abattoir Company were assaulted by the same firm when they met yesterday afternoon at Sixty-sixth street and Amsterdam avenue.

Policeman Craig, of the West Sixty-eighth Street Station, attempted to arrest John Watts, one of the colored non-union workmen, of No. 227 West Sixty-first street, and was himself attacked by several other colored men. Other policemen came to Craig's aid, with the result that not only Watts, but Henry Streets, Albert Jones, all living in 9 West Sixty-third street, were arrested. A loaded revolver was found in Watts's pocket.

THEY STUMPED FOR BRYAN. Two Federal Office-Holders' Heads Taken by Secretary Carlisle.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Secretary Carlisle today removed from office Thomas F. Brentley, of South Carolina, Chief of the Army and Navy Division, Third Auditor's office, and Burton T. Doyle, of Tennessee, Assistant Chief of the Warrant Division of the Secretary's office, Treasury Department.

Each of these gentlemen had been on the stump for Bryan and free silver. Mr. Doyle had been speaking in Maryland and Mr. Brentley in West Virginia.

Rights to a Throne Renounced. Vienna, Nov. 4.—Archduchess Dorothea of Austria today formally renounced her rights of succession to the Austrian throne to her marriage to the Duke of Orleans, which will occur on November 6.

ORANGE HORSE SHOW PROVES A SUCCESS.

Society Turns Out to Take Part in the New Jersey Event.

All the Fashionable People from the Nearby Villages at the Opening.

Roads Leading to the Club Crowded with the Equipages of the Visitors.

MANY NEW YORKERS IN THE PARTY. Handsomely Dressed Women Vie with the Men in Their Efforts to Make the Display One to Be Proud Of.

The Orange horse show, like the horse show in town, is a brilliant social success. All the fashionables from the nearby villages were in attendance yesterday, and many went from New York, as well, to take part in it. Every road leading to the Riding and Driving Club, at East Orange, was crowded with carriages long before the bugle sounded, and handsomely dressed women passed under the striped awnings into the boxes, which were in an "L" around the tankard square.

First to arrive were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Goddard. She was dressed in hunting green cloth, trimmed with heavy cream-colored lace on the bodice. Her hat was a large picture affair of fancy felt, with bell-shaped crown and a broad green brim, with pink roses netting around it. Then came Mr. and Mrs. Gaston, the latter wearing a stylish black cloth gown and small black bonnet. With them were three New York men—John Hegeman, Jr.; E. J. Thomas, and Clifford Lyon. The Gastons were followed by the other box holders—W. H. Smith, W. D. Grand, Captain Frederick Freelinghuyse, Frank Orly, John R. Robinson, Charles A. Sterling, James G. Marshall, George H. Gaston, Edward Green, Colonel Henry C. Leeward, and E. M. Collie, Frederick Seymour, William M. Franklin, C. F. Spaulding, Charles B. Gregory, E. G. Barnston, H. H. Goddard, Alden Freeman, D. S. Walton, R. A. Ward, William Rummel, William S. Silver, J. G. Marshall, Eugene Smith, Frank Fort, Henry A. Maudsley, W. E. Prater, Henry Graves, Charles Hathaway, W. H. Rockefeller, Otto Lubke, R. H. La Pierre, Samuel C. Huddle.

Scattered about the building were Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Alting, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hillcock, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Carter and the Misses Carter, Mr. James D. Dinicola, Eunice Dinicola, Mrs. M. P. C. Orly, the Misses Orly, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Yungling, Jr., the Misses Yungling, Vice-Chancellor Frederick W. Stevens, Edna Stevens, Charles Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Seward, the Misses Seward, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus F. Loutrel, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pierre, Henry G. Atwater, Thomas Ould, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hathaway, Mr. and Mrs. P. Bowersale, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Church, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Fort and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Francis Freeman.

CANADA ON THE RESULT. Newspaper Comment Across the Border is Along the Line of Congratulation to the United States.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 4.—Commenting on the result of the elections in the United States yesterday, the World says: "Mr. McKinley's election means a great and almost immediate change in the policy of the Republic, but McKinley will directly and indirectly antagonize Canada in many ways in the matter of the tariff, the matter of fisheries, in the matter of the canal, and the like. Cleveland was hostile on occasions, but McKinley will make us more self-reliant, more determined to be satisfied for ourselves, and to seek our salvation, to meet the fire with fire. We cannot play the lamb to the American wolf. The Globe says: "The disincorporated classes, both rural and urban, have made a mistake in their first concerted effort. They adopted a policy that would not accomplish the end in view. They will not prevent them seeking an effectual policy at the next opportunity—perhaps a change in the tariff, or a change in the management. Whatever issues may arise they must be faced and settled by the American people, for their social disincorporation does not find a safety valve in emigration."

Montreal, Can., Nov. 4.—The Herald says: "The result of yesterday's voting is a commanding testimony to the existence of that wonderful patriotism to which the good sense of the people of the United States has never appealed in vain. The Gazette says: "Europe, as well as America, will think better of the Republic for the part which it took in the election of this most critical of election contests."

AMERICANS IN PARIS REJOICE. Those Who Derive Their Incomes from Home Glad That McKinley Wins.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Although the triumph of McKinley was generally expected in the American colony here, there were still some members deriving their incomes from home who feel greatly relieved. Meredith Read, United States Consul-General in Paris during the Franco-Prussian war, and later United States Minister here, describes the election of McKinley as a victory of common sense. "Amidst a general decline to express any opinion regarding the result of the election. One of the heads of the American banking house of Moore & Co. said he could not remember an American Presidential election the result of which had elicited more general satisfaction."

GERMANY'S JOY NOT COMPLETE. Exultation Over Bryan's Defeat is Marred by Fears of a High Tariff.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The North German Gazette, discussing the election in the United States from the German point of view, says that the success of McKinley means a high protective tariff in America, and, therefore, did not possess the sympathy of Germany, says: "If Bryan had been successful Germany would not have been any better off. The victory of McKinley, however, need not arouse great fears. There will, of course, be a very strong desire for higher tariffs, but there are political factors which will sensibly limit the power of the President."

Effect Beneficial in Rome. Rome, Nov. 4.—The victory of McKinley in yesterday's Presidential election in America has made an excellent impression in banking and business circles here. The Bourse showed a great deal of animation today, and rates have risen.

GOVERNOR ALTGELD SPEAKS OUT BOLDLY.

Says Democrats Made a Good Fight, Considering the Circumstances.

Forces of Two Continents, He Adds, Were Marshalled Against the Party.

Sharp Words for President Cleveland of Illinois's Chief Executive.

EXPRESSES THANKS FOR SUPPORT. Defeated Candidate for Re-election Tells His Followers He is Grateful for What They Did for Him.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Governor Altgeld gave the following statement to the press this afternoon: "To the Democrats of Illinois: 'Although defeated, I desire to thank you for the loyal support you have given me, and I congratulate you on the heroic fight you have just made. Consider that only six months ago our great party lay prostrate; it had been betrayed into the hands of stockholders and monopolists by President Cleveland; it had been robbed of everything Democratic, except a name; it stood for no great principle and its flesh was being torn by political birds of prey; it was loaded with anything for the party, except to ride it, and it was infested with political vermin of both the smooth and rough and dusty variety, yet under these sore conditions the party broke the cords with which the ill-fated party had been bound; it rose with new energy; it cut loose from the domination of trusts and syndicates; it repudiated the man who betrayed it; it threw off the load of deadweights; it drove out the political vermin and with a new inspiration it again proclaimed Democratic principles and assumed the cause of the toiling humanity. 'Although it was obliged to reform while under the fire of the enemy, it has made the most heroic political fight ever seen in this country; it was confronted by all the booties that could be scraped together on two continents; it was confronted by all the great and little trusts, all the great and little corporations, all the great papers,'" that there ever was such a thing as the goat and beamed upon everybody. Thomas C. Platt will have to look to his laurels as the "sweet singer" of the Republican party. The dry goods men sang, cheered, laughed and applauded the Mayor, General Horace Porter, the hon. chief justice and the winning candidates all the afternoon.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advertiser is a handsome volume of over 1000 pages. It contains a larger amount of valuable information than any other medical work, and it has reached a greater sale than any other. 650,000 copies were sold at the regular price, $1.50 each, and now an edition has been printed and bound in strong paper covers for free distribution. Any one may secure one by sending twenty-five cents in one stamp to pay cost of mailing only. If you prefer fine French cloth binding, send ten cents extra, or thirty-one cents in all, to pay the cost of this more handsome and durable cover. STRONG OUTWABLES PLATT. Mayor Sings a Solo at the Dry Goods Men's Jollification.

Mayor William L. Strong's enthusiasm knew no bounds yesterday at the jollification meeting of the Wholesale Dry Goods Republicans Club, over which he presided. He joined hands with Misses Walker and Page of the Donizetti Quartet and sang a solo, "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten," the quartet joining in the chorus. The crowd went nearly wild and cheered the Mayor for several minutes. He forgot Lecture and Healing Clinic at Masonic Hall Daily at 2:30 p. m. Special Illustrated Lecture to Ladies Only Saturday Afternoon.

The philosophy and wisdom of ages are outdone and in their competition and ignorance of a science more potent in its active principle than all the boasted elements of discovery since the world began. The grand demonstrations in healing the hundreds of sick and disabled people, not only in public, but also in private, speak loudly and more convincing than words of the fact that the power possessed by the Vitaphone Healer is little less than miraculous, and here the cures which they are daily performing have been done in the presence of the most skeptical and the most skeptical people who have been sick and crippled for years have been carried to them in chairs, on coats, and in the arms of friends, and often have walked away shouting the praises of this wonderful system that is capable of giving relief when all else fails. This gift of healing is a power which which few men are gifted, and like the gift of prophecy, of song, or music, it must remain in the possession of but few. Charles Nobles was so deaf when he came on the stage that he couldn't hear a steam whistle. After the vital current had been started through his system he distinctly heard whistles behind him.

A remarkable case of paralysis of five years' standing was that of George A. Coyle, who said that he had been treated by eminent nerve specialists of this city and elsewhere, who had declared his case hopeless. He was hardly able to crawl along. After a few minutes' treatment he jumped from the chair, danced about like a schoolboy, and said: "This is God's work; no other power could make me feel as I do. Terrible ease of rheumatism, he being obliged to crawl along with the aid of a cane. After the treatment he was able to walk, to stand, to sit, to stand, and the immense crowd again applauded wildly. These are only a few of the many wonderful cures effected."

These Healing meetings are held every afternoon (except Sunday) at 2:30, at Masonic Hall, where all are free. Those able and willing to pay for services and treatment can call at the office, 100 West 22d St., from 10 to 12 o'clock, or at 9 a. m. Don't forget the Special Illustrated Lecture to Ladies Only on Saturday afternoon.
