Bing Toys

Mechanical Toys That Are Built by Engineers

To the smallest detail, every Bing Mechanical Toy is the product of an expert engineer. They are designed from real railroad trains, ocean steamships, and actual machinery—marvels of accuracy and fidelity to life.

The Bing Miniature Railway Systems, complete with stations and signals electrically operated, afford no end of instruction to the youth of an inquiring turn of mind. Bing Motion Picture Machines are practical and while away many dull hours, because they use the standard educational reels produced by the big film companies.

JOHN BING,
381 Fourth Avenue,
New York City.
