New President of N. Y. Central Railroad.

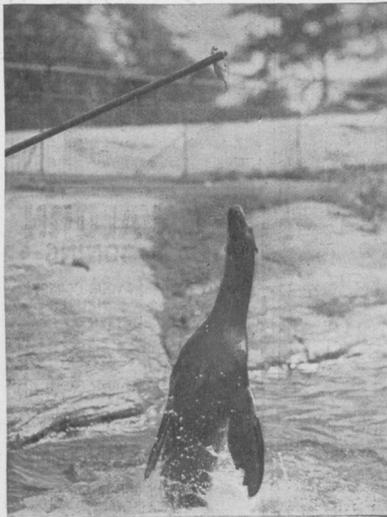

Alfred H. Smith has been promoted from the Senior Vice Presidency and on Jan. 1 will succeed William C. Brown, who resigned to become an agriculturist. Mr. Smith, like his predecessor, has risen from the ranks of practical railroad men. His first job was that of a messenger boy for the Lake Shore Railroad at Cleveland in 1875. He is 49 years old.

Gates Mausoleum That Cost $125,000.

It was erected in Woodlawn Cemetery as a memorial to John W. Gates, and will also be the resting place of his son, Charles G. Gates, who died recently. The Doric structure, built on a solid concrete foundation, is made of granite weighing 1,200 tons. Stone, Gould and Farrington were the architects.

Fish That Looks Like an Old Man.

A traveler brought this queer fish's head to the New York Aquarium from Cape Town, South Africa. It is the only specimen known, and the students of piscatorial lore have no name for the creature. Unofficially it is called "The Old Man of the Sea."
