

HUERTA REFUGEES TURN TO UNITED STATES FOR SHELTER

Lieut. Martin and Other United States Army Officers Distributing Rations to 4,000 Huerta Soldiers Who Fled to Texas from Villa's Vengeance

(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

SYMPATHIZERS WITH HUERTA REGIME, WITH THEIR WIVES AND CHILDREN, SAFE AT LAST ON AMERICAN SOIL

CHARGE NELSON O'SHAUGHNESSY AND FAMILY

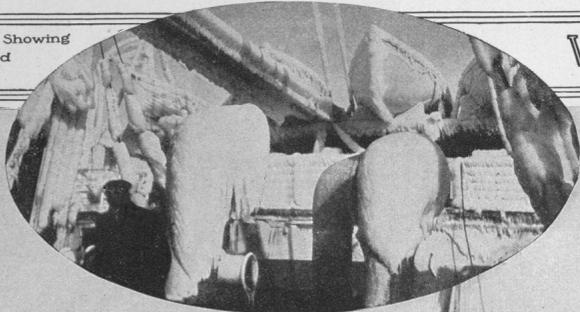

A New Photograph of the Little Group of Official Americans at Mexico City to Whom United States Citizens Still in Mexico Look for Protection. Left to Right Are: Charge O'Shaughnessy, Capt. Burnside, Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, Mrs. Burnside, and in the Foreground, the Little Son of Charge O'Shaughnessy and the O'Shaughnessy Dog.

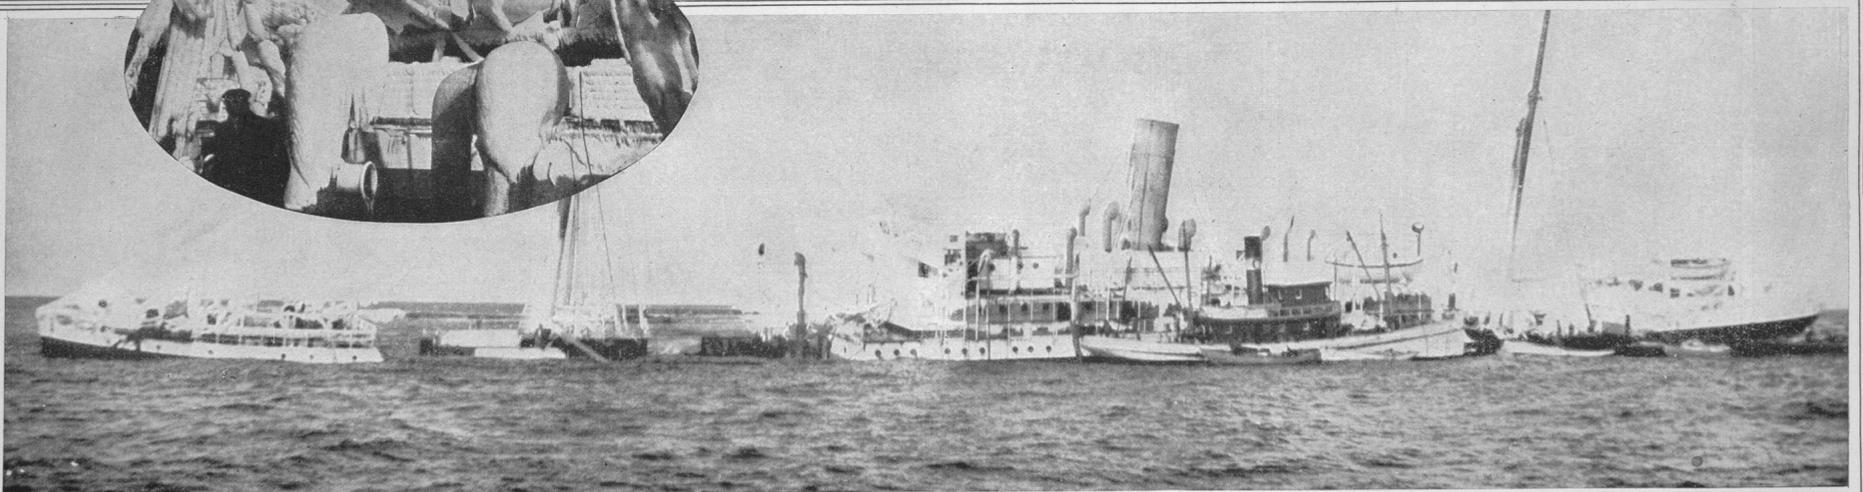

GEN. VILLA AT OJINAGA INSPECTING RIFLES CAPTURED FROM THE FEDERALS
Left to Right: Col. Rodriguez Trinidad, Raoul Madero, a Brother of the Late President Francisco Madero; Gen. Jose Rodriguez, Gen. Francisco Villa, Gen. Rudolfo Fierro

(Photo (C) by International News Service.)

Looking Aft Showing the Ice-Coated Life Boats

Waterlogged and Abandoned Wreck of the Cobequid

Taking Off Passengers, Driven by the Encroaching Sea to the Upper Deck of the Cobequid, the Royal Mail Packet Company's Ship, Wrecked on Trinity Ledge Off Port Maitland, N. S.

(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)