

INTERESTING PEOPLE SEEN THROUGH THE CAMERA'S EYE

Baby John Jacob Astor

This little son of the late Col. John Jacob Astor who met his death in the Titanic disaster, and Mrs. Astor, formerly Miss Madeleine T. Force, eighteen months old, was photographed a few days ago for the first time.

(Photo (c) by Lillian Baynes Griffin. From Underwood & Underwood.)

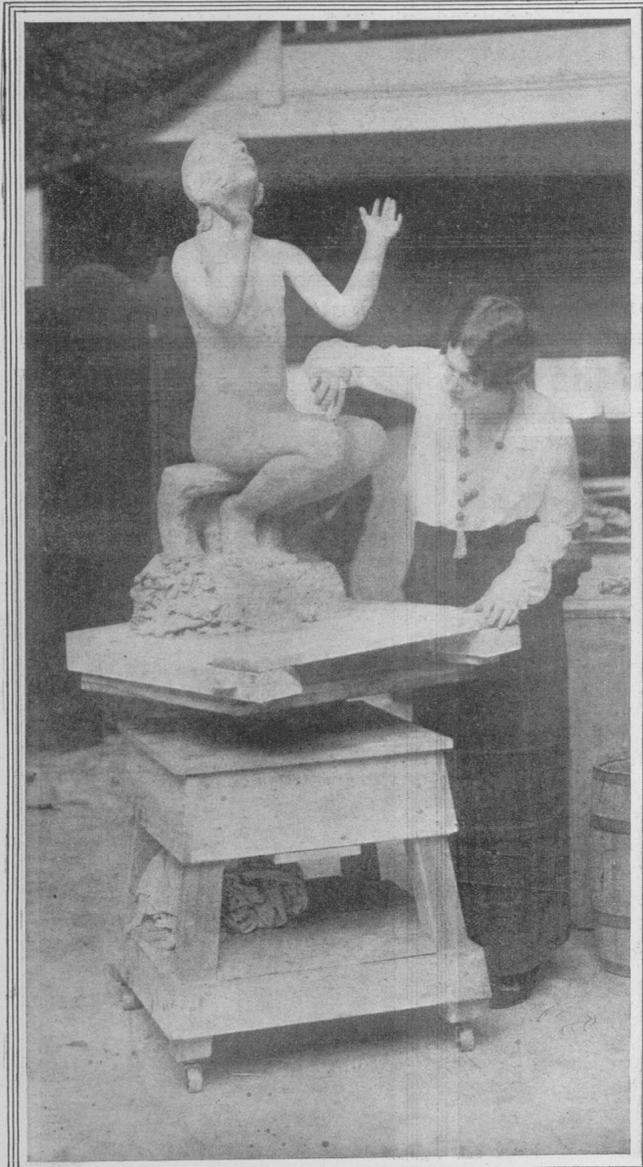

AS ANDREW CARNEGIE WILL APPEAR TO POSTERITY

This photograph of Mr. Carnegie, with his friend Henry Phipps on his right, was made a few days ago at the Edison Studio when he became an "actor" in the "Talking Movies" that his form and voice might be preserved to future generations

A CHILD IN THE FAMOUS MANNERS PUNCH BOWL

The child is Master David Charteris, elder son of the Hon. Hugo Charteris and Lady Violet Charteris, formerly Lady Violet Manners, of England. The punch bowl is of silver, weighing 1900 ounces and was made 270 years ago after a design by Benvenuto Cellini.

MRS. WILLIAM ASTOR CHANLER IN HER STUDIO

Like Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, designer of the Titanic Memorial, Mrs. Chanler is an enthusiastic worker. The photograph shows her engaged on a figure for a fountain.

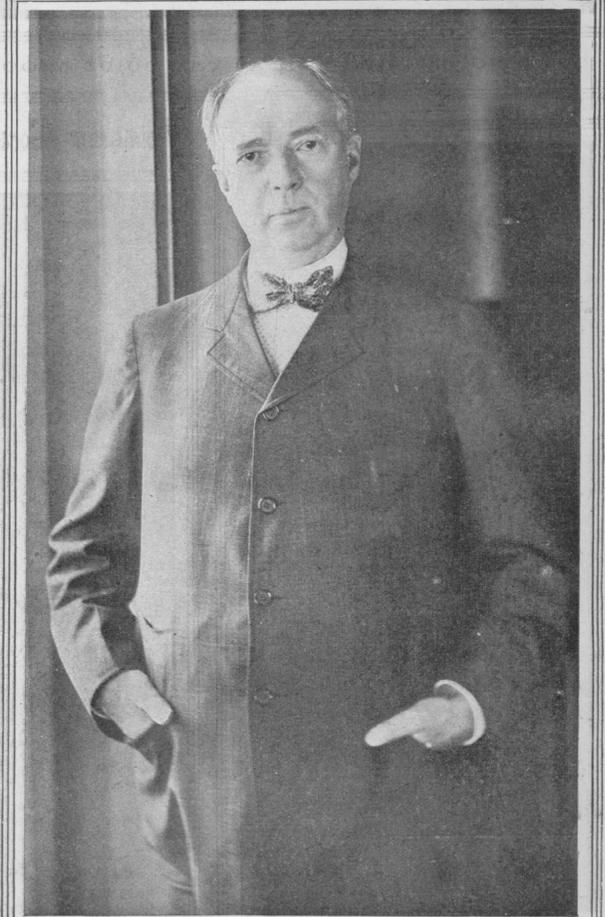

(Photos (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

COL. GEORGE W. GOETHALS AT HIS DESK

Famous Panama Canal Builder who is Mayor Mitchel's First choice for Police Commissioner of New York

(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

JOHN D. ARCHBOLD

A new photograph of the President of the Standard Oil Company, who rarely faces a camera.

(Photo (C) by Davis & Sanford Co.)