

BRITISH TROOPS ON FRENCH SOIL TO FIGHT WITH ALLIES

BRITISH CAMP ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF HAVRE, LANDING BASE OF THE FIRST ENGLISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN THE WAR.

The Photographs on This Page Were Taken Exclusively for The New York Times By Mrs Gertrude Robinson Smith, of New York, a Passenger on the S. S. France, Who Witnessed the British Landing at Havre.

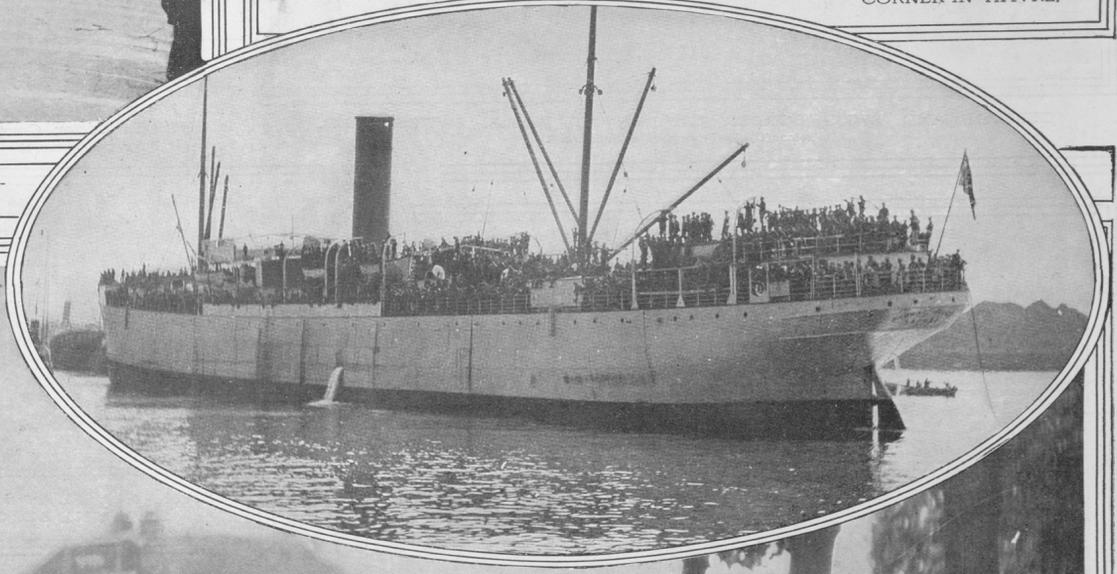

HEAD OF THE BRITISH COLUMN MARCHING TO THE CAMP NEAR HAVRE.

British Transport Landing at Havre. →

FRENCH RESERVISTS, NEWLY UNIFORMED AND ARMED, SWINGING AROUND A STREET CORNER IN HAVRE.

FRENCH OFFICER ADDRESSING HIS MEN BEFORE ENTRAINING FOR THE GERMAN FRONTIER.