

RESERVISTS TO FILL THE GAPS MADE BY THE ALLIES
IN THE GERMAN ARMY
Marching to the Railway Station in Berlin.

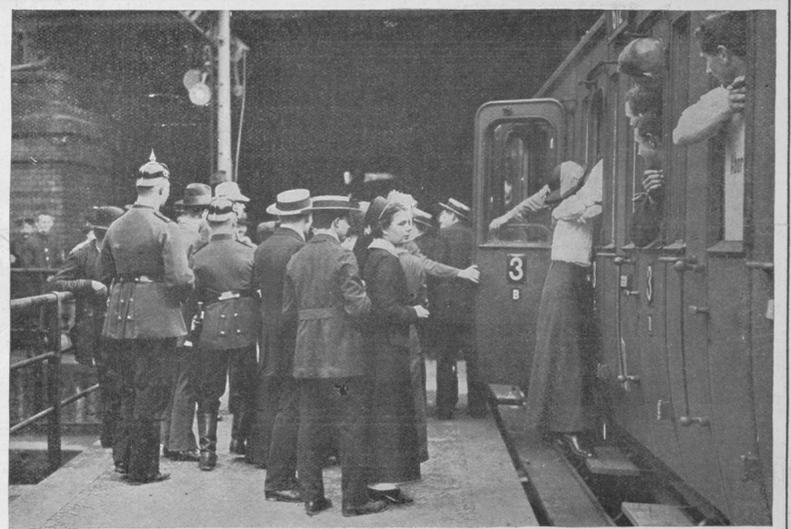

GERMAN OUT-POST GUARDING THE FRONTIER BETWEEN BELGIUM AND HOLLAND.

Similar Outposts Stretching from Aix-la-Chapelle to the Most Westerly Point on the Dutch-Belgian Line Held by the Germans.

KRIEGS-KARTE, OR WAR POST CARD, Giving a Portrait of the Kaiser and a German Artist's Conception of the "Storming of Liege." It Was Mailed to This Country from Cologne.

SAYING GOOD-BYE IN THE BERLIN RAILWAY STATION.
(Photos (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

GERMAN ARMY SUPPLY TRAIN, LOADED WITH HAY AND DRAWN BY A TRACTION ENGINE, Passing Through a Village in Northern France.