

NEW YEAR'S CELEBRATION IN THE GERMAN TRENCHES AT DARKEHMEN, EAST PRUSSIA. (Photo from Paul Thompson.)

A GERMAN "JAEGER" (RIFLE) REGIMENT IN THE ARGONNE FOREST. Few, if Any, Photographs Have Reached America Since the War Began Showing So Large a Body of German Troops at One Time. (Photo by R. Sennecke, Berlin.)

"LITTLE VICTIMS OF THE WAR" A Bit of Sculpture by Leopold Bracony

ROYAL ENGINEERS OF THE BRITISH "NEW ARMY" GOING THROUGH A BRIDGE-BUILDING DRILL AT ALDERSHOT, Felling the Trees, and Completing the Structure, Including the 240-Foot Span, in Sixty Hours.

FRENCH DECORATE A DUMMY WITH THE IRON CROSS TO DRAW THE FIRE OF INDIGNANT GERMANS