

THE SIGNING OF THE TREATY OF GHENT WITH GREAT BRITAIN, DEC. 24, 1814. CELEBRATED TODAY AS PEACE SUNDAY THROUGHOUT UNITED STATES AND CANADA. MARKING A HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE.
British Delegates, on the Left—Anthony St. John Baker, William Adams, Henry Goulburn, Admiral Lord Gambier, Chief Plenipotentiary. American Delegates—John Quincy Adams, Chief Plenipotentiary; Albert Gallatin, Christopher Hughes, James A. Bayard, Henry Clay, Jonathan Russell.
From the Historically Accurate Painting by A. Forestier of England, and Here Reproduced for the First Time in America. (Photo © by Reinthal & Newman, New York.)

ANDREW CARNEGIE, FOUNDER AND CHIEF SUPPORTER OF THE MOVEMENT FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE, WHICH HE HAS ENDOWED WITH $14,000,000. From a Photograph Made Ten Days Ago at His Fifth Avenue Home for Exclusive Publication in The Times on Peace Sunday, Showing Him at the Desk at Which All His Philanthropic Work is Done. Looked Upon by the Portraits of His Family and Most Cherished Friends. He is Holding a Letter Received That Day from President Wilson. (Photo by Tabbs, © by New York Times Co.)