

BELGIAN CHILDREN THE YOUNGEST ONLY SIX WEEKS OLD, WHO WERE VICTIMS OF THE FIGHTING AROUND YPRES, AND ARE NOW CARED FOR IN A HOSPITAL AT LA PANNE.

(Photo from American Press Assn.)

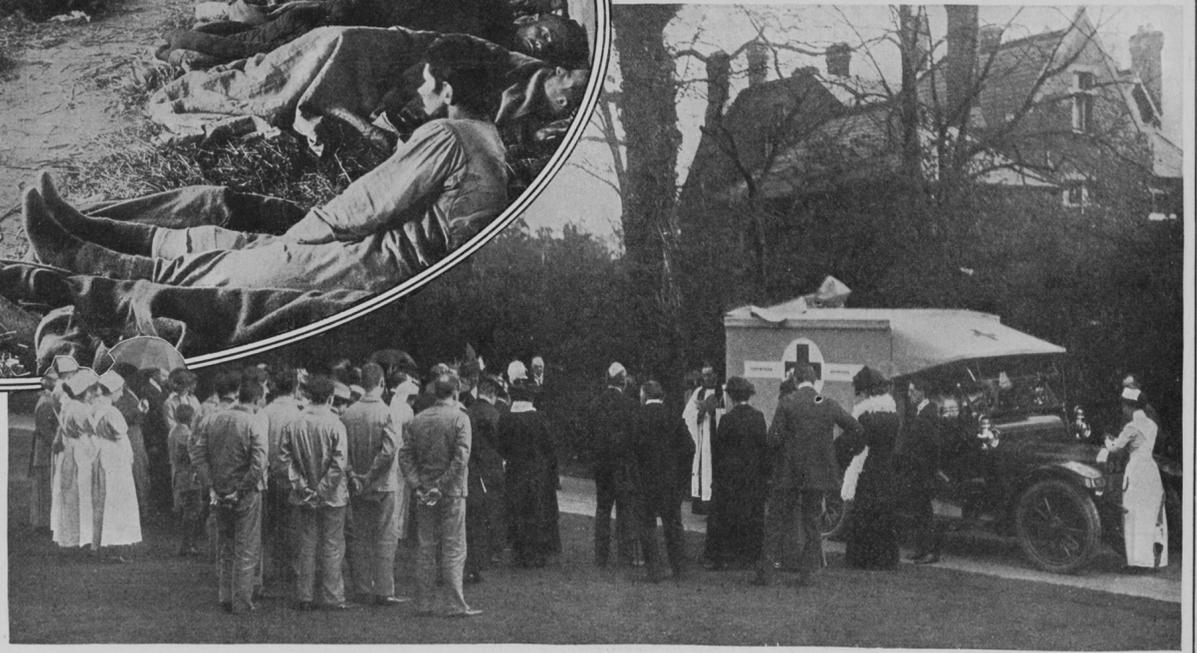

A GERMAN "DRAWING ROOM" TRENCH IN THE CHAMPAGNE DISTRICT. The Windows Have Shutters, the Trench is Carpeted, and a Mat Lies Before the Door.

(Photo from Sennecke, Berlin.)

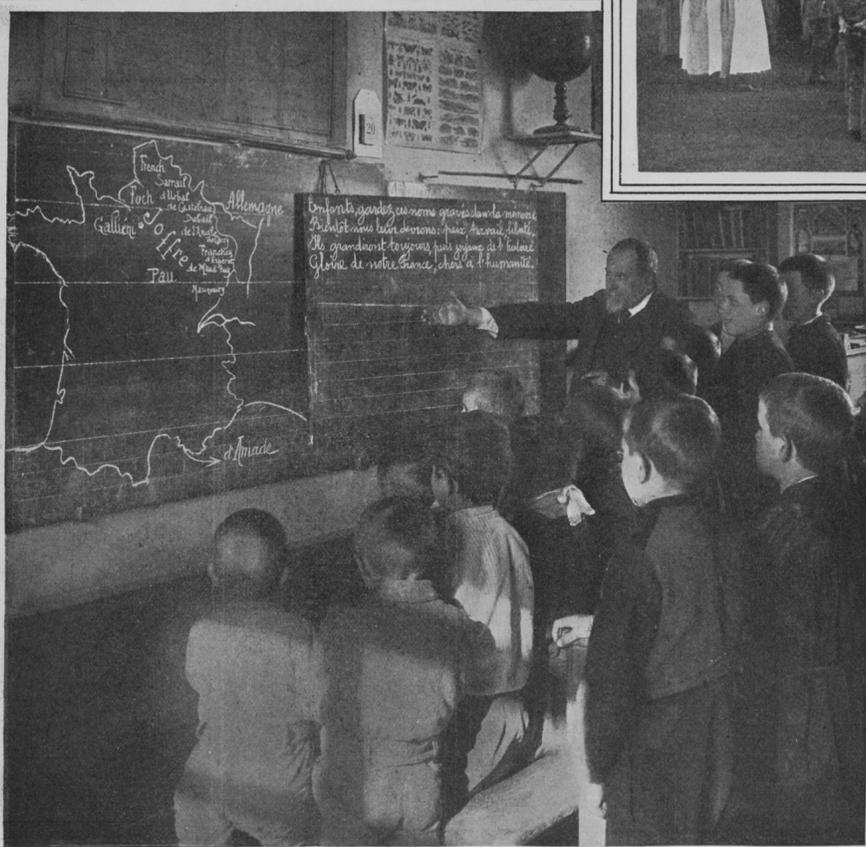

RUSSIAN PRIEST SPEAKING TO WOUNDED RUSSIAN SOLDIERS IN AN UNUSUALLY PRIMITIVE GERMAN HOSPITAL IN SUWALKI, RUSSIAN POLAND.

(Photo from Paul Thompson.)

Canon MacNutt Dedicating a Motor Ambulance to be Used Exclusively in Conveying Wounded British Soldiers to "Oakenshaw," the English Country Place of Marden Ranger, Which He Has Converted into a War Hospital.

(Photo © by International News Service.)

THE WAR ALREADY IN FRENCH SCHOOLS.

With a Map of France on the Blackboard, the Village Schoolmaster Is Explaining to His Pupils the Position of the Various Troops Under General Joffre, and the Object Points Toward Which They Are Fighting.

(Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

BERLIN WOMEN LEARNING TO RUN STREET CARS TO BE ABLE TO TAKE THE MEN'S PLACES WHEN NECESSARY.

(Photo from R. Sennecke, Berlin.)