

British Soldiers Assaulting a German Trench Which Had First Been Mined and Blown to Pieces.
(Photo © International News Service.)

French General, to the Delight of the Bystanders, Kissing an Alsatian Girl Who Has Brought Him a Bouquet.
(Photo from Brown Brothers.)

Italian Volunteer Students, at the Foot of the Statue of Dante in Naples, Swear to Restore the Former Italian Territory Now Included in Austria.
(Photo by Sport & General.)

Officers' Quarters in the Summer Village Built by German Soldiers Behind Their Trenches in France.
(Photo from Press Illustrating Co.)

French Sergeant in a Red Cross Hospital Reading the Picture Section of The New York Times of May 23 Last. The Picture Here Shown Is That of the Sailors from the Atlantic Fleet Passing in Review on Fifth Avenue Before President Wilson.

ENGLISH GIRLS MAKING AMMUNITION BOXES AS THEIR SHARE OF THE WORK TOWARD INCREASING THE MUNITION SUPPLY FOR THE ARMY AT THE FRONT.
(Photo © International News Service.)