OUR floors are filled with a veritable wealth of small mahogany pieces of rare beauty—many of them decidedly novel and interesting, others of the always-in-favor kind. Those illustrated barely indicate the very great variety. Then, too, there are the larger pieces for those who seek gifts of more substantial character—davenport, tables, bookcases, dining and bedroom pieces and suites. In short, in our preparations for Christmas we have far surpassed any previous gift season.

It is the thought and care behind the gift that cements friendship and is remembered long after the Christmas season has passed—the appreciated gift—Gotham Gold Stripe Silk Stockings.

THATCH

One of the new designs shown in our big catalog.

Bossert Redbill Homes

"Not Even a Nail to Buy."
Built entirely of Bossert Air-chamber Units, of better quality timber than you will find elsewhere. So grooved and tenoned that the one tightly fits into the other. Joints simply could not be as perfectly airtight if nails were used. The unit is so built together, one unit to the other, making a building so strong and so permanent, that even a comparison with the ordinary frame structure is simply out of place. The cost of duplicating a Redbill House by hand would be prohibitive. Special machinery alone made it possible—and then only after years of experiments.
