JOHN J. MAPP, AS THE KING OF THE MARDI GRAS, NEW ORLEANS, SALUTING THE QUEEN OF THE CARNIVAL, MISS INEZ LUCILLE ELLIS, DEBUTANTE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. CRAWFORD H. ELLIS, IN FRONT OF THE BOSTON CLUB.

Theodore N. Vail, President of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, and Alexander Graham Bell, Inventor of the Telephone, Meeting for the First Time in Thirty Years at the Recent Session of the National Geographic Society in Washington. Behind Them Are the Officers of the Society.
(Photo by Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson.)

MISS INEZ LUCILLE ELLIS, QUEEN OF THE MARDI GRAS, AND ATTENDANTS WATCHING THE PARADE.
In the group, left to right, are: Misses Clarisse Claiborne, Katherine Scales, The Queen, Josephine Le Grange, and Millie Holland.
(Photo © by International Film Service.)

LITTLE HELEN GERTRUDE SKELLY,
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Skelly, Presenting the Keys of the City of New Orleans to Rex. Mayor Martin Behrman of New Orleans Can Be Seen on the Right Holding Her Hand.

LITTLE PEOPLE WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE RECENT CHILDREN'S COLONIAL BALL AT CORONADO BEACH, CALIFORNIA.
In the group are: Katherine, Florence, and James Agen, children of J. B. Agen, Seattle; Mary Keck, daughter of Walter Keck, New York; Martha Pillsbury, daughter of Charles F. Pillsbury, Minneapolis; Evelyn and Walter Dupee, children of Walter Dupee, Chicago; May Mary Deveuve, daughter of James H. Deveuve, Seattle; Helen and Catherine Thompson, daughter of Percival Thompson, Chicago, and niece of Mayor William Hale Thompson; Virginia Jordan, daughter of Mrs. Frank Moon, Chicago, and granddaughter of Judge Peter S. Grosscup, Chicago; Frank and Claus Spreckels, Jr., children of Claus Spreckels; Malcolm and Dudley Wright. (Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)