

STUDENTS OF THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, WHO HAVE JOINED THE COLLEGE REGIMENT, FORMED ON THE COLLEGE GROUNDS FOR REVIEW BY THE INSTITUTION'S PRESIDENT, DR. SIDNEY E. MEZES.

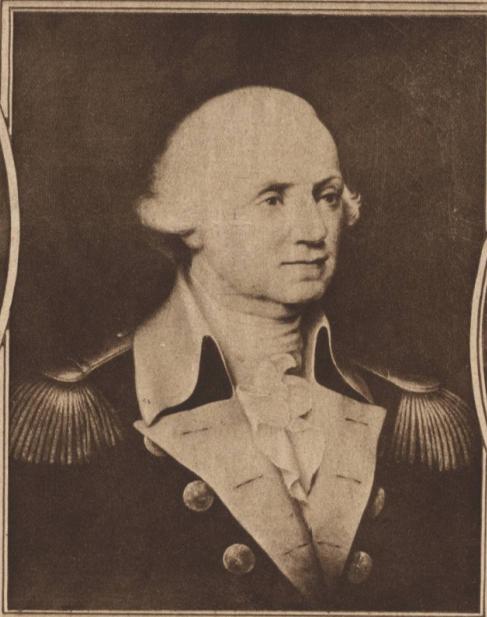

(Photo © by International Film Service.)

JOHN BURROUGHS AT EIGHTY.

From a Photograph of the Naturalist and Author Taken in This City a Week Ago Especially for The New York Times.

(Times Photo Service.)

WASHINGTON.

From an Unpublished Portrait by Rembrandt Peale in the Washington Memorials Inherited and Collected by William Lanier Washington of This City, a Direct Descendant of Two of General Washington's Brothers. It Is Now on Exhibition at the Anderson Galleries.

(Photo by Juley.)

MISS ELSIE SPEAR

of Watertown, Mass., First Massachusetts Girl to Enlist in the American Navy. She Was Sworn in at the Charleston Navy Yard by Chief Machinist Gutherman of the U. S. S. Kearsarge.

(Photo © by International Film Service.)

MISS KATHERINE W. PORTER, Debutante Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wyman Porter. From a New Photograph. (Photo by Ira Hill.)

MISS JENNIE MARSTON, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Marston. From a New Portrait by Howard C. Renwick. (Photo by Hopson & Junick.)

"THE WATERFALL"—BY JOHN SINGER SARGENT. It Was Painted by Mr. Sargent While on His Trip Through the Canadian Rockies Last Summer, and Has Just Been Hung at Fenway Court, the Art Gallery of Mrs. John L. Gardner, Boston. (Photo © by Thomas E. Marr & Son.)