

(Photo © by International Film Service.)

MORE THAN FIVE HUNDRED EMPLOYEES OF B. ALTMAN & CO., NOW MEMBERS OF THE HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE ORGANIZED BY POLICE COMMISSIONER WOODS, TAKING THEIR DAILY "SETTING UP" EXERCISES ON THE ROOF OF THE ALTMAN STORE, UNDER THE INSTRUCTION OF POLICE SERGEANT HINES OF THE SECOND DISTRICT.

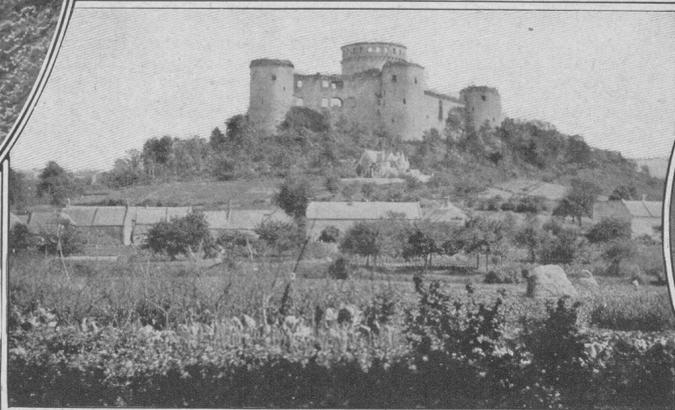

BRITISH BRIDGING WHAT WAS ONCE A GERMAN TRENCH IN THE TERRITORY LEFT DEVASTATED BY THE GERMANS ON THEIR GREAT RETREAT TOWARD CAMBRAI.

(Photo by Central News Service.)

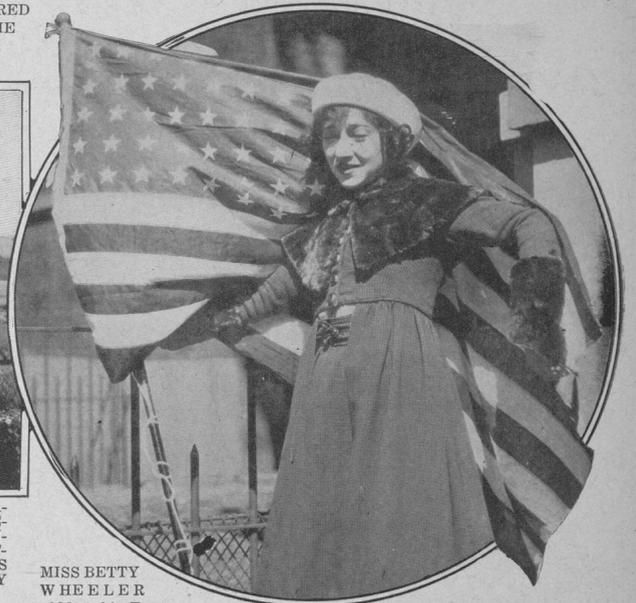

GIRL EMPLOYEES OF ALTMAN'S, WHO HAVE VOLUNTEERED FOR RED CROSS SERVICE IN THE HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE, DRILLING ON THE ALTMAN ROOF, LED BY DR. JOSEPH HARRIS, HOUSE PHYSICIAN.

(Times Photo Service.)

THE HISTORIC CASTLE OF COUCY-LE-CHA-TEAU, ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS MEDIAEVAL MONUMENTS IN FRANCE, BUILT BY ENGUERRAND III IN THE THIRTEENTH CENTURY, AND FULLY PRESERVED DESPITE ITS 700 YEARS, UNTIL ENTIRELY DESTROYED BY THE RETIRING GERMANS.

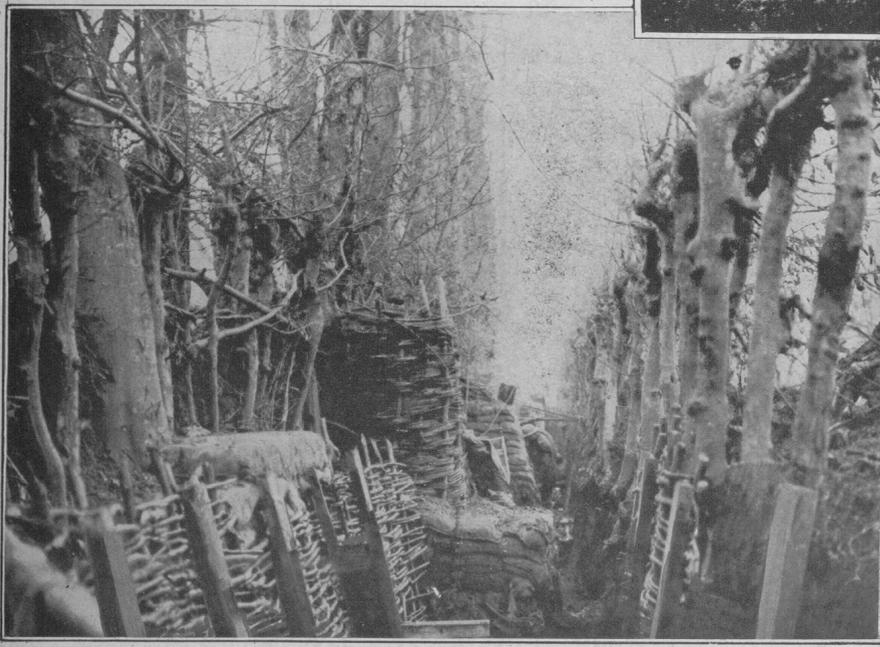

The castle, on a commanding eminence, was one day seen by the advancing French to spring into the air, and then, after the sound of a tremendous explosion, to settle back into clouds of dust. The French found in its place a shapeless heap of stones.

MISS BETTY WHEELER

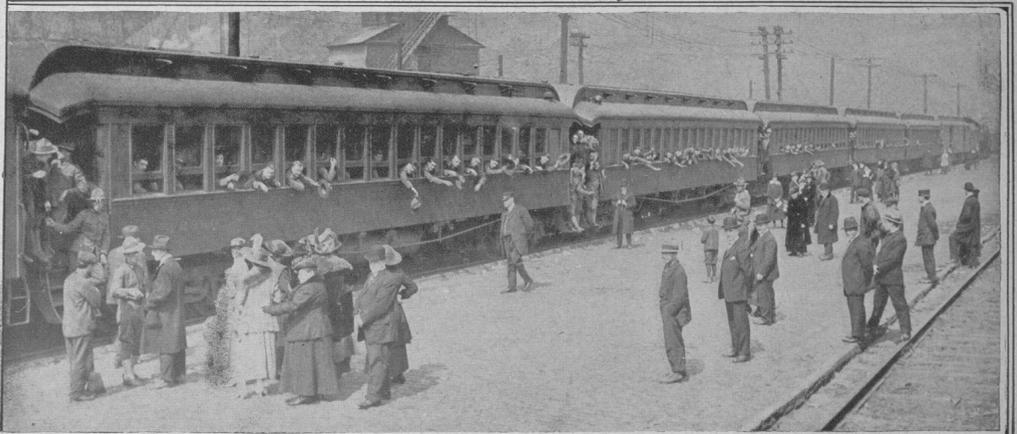

of Memphis, Tenn., granddaughter of a Confederate soldier killed in battle at Chattanooga, who is singing at recruiting stations in New York to attract possible applicants for enlistment.

(Photo by Kadel & Herbert.)

A DESERTED TRENCH IN THE GERMAN SECOND LINE WHICH WAS ALMOST ENTIRELY CONCEALED BY THE TWO ROWS OF TREES BETWEEN WHICH IT WAS DUG.

(Photo by Central News Service.)

BATTALION OF THE 71ST REGIMENT, NOW IN UNITED STATES SERVICE, LEAVING WEBERHAWKEN, N.J.

(Photo © by Underwood & Underwood.)