

NEW YORK SEES FOR THE FIRST TIME HER WAR EMERGENCY POLICE, THE HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE, SWINGING DOWN FIFTH AVENUE, NEARLY 10,000 STRONG, AS A PART OF THE ANNUAL POLICE PARADE. (Times Photo Service.)

A DIVISION OF THE UNITED STATES JUNIOR NAVAL RESERVES DRILLING IN CENTRAL PARK UNDER CAPTAIN TILL. (Photo © by Underwood & Underwood.)

STUDENTS OF NEW YORK UNIVERSITY DRILLING FOR THE FIRST TIME ON THE UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC FIELD NEAR THE HALL OF FAME, CAPTAIN E. H. JAMES, TWELFTH REGIMENT, INSTRUCTING. (Times Photo Service.)

PRINCE FREDERICK CHARLES, FIRST GERMAN PRINCE OF THE HOHENZOLLERN BLOOD TO BE KILLED IN THE WAR.

An Aviator, He Was Wounded and Brought Down Within the British Lines. Later Dying in a British War Hospital. He was Twenty-Four Years Old. (Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

MISS CONSTANCE VAUCLAIN. A Blue Ribbon Winner in the Ladies' Phaeton Class at the National Capital Horse Show. (Photo © by International Film Service.)

MAYOR MITCHEL, At the Police Parade, Pinning the Department's Distinguished Service Medal on Sergeant John F. Brennan. (Times Photo Service.)

RED CROSS NURSES AND MEMBERS OF THE HARVARD BASE HOSPITAL NO. 5 LEAVING BOSTON ON THE FIRST STAGE OF THEIR JOURNEY TO THE FRONT IN FRANCE. They Bear the "Stars and Stripes," Blessed and Consecrated by Bishop William Lawrence of Boston. (Photo © by International Film Service.)