

THE RUSSIAN MISSION, HEADED BY BORIS A. BAKHMETIEFF, AND CITY OFFICIALS PROCEEDING TO THE MALL IN CENTRAL PARK FOR THE POPULAR RECEPTION TO THE RUSSIAN VISITORS, ATTENDED BY 20,000 PERSONS.

In the First Row, Centre, Left to Right, Are: Oscar S. Straus, Mr. Bakhmetieff, and Park Commissioner Cabot Ward.

(© International Film Service.)

GLADYS LOFTUS

In the Ziegfeld Follies, at the New Amsterdam Theatre.

GEORGE J. GOULD, JR., AND HIS BRIDE, Formerly Miss Laura M. Carter, of Ardena, N. J., Mr. Gould Following Within a Week the Example of His Eldest Brother, Kingdon Gould, in Wedding Without a Previous Announcement of the Engagement.

(Kadel & Herbert.)

MARY PICKFORD DELIVERING TO LIEUTENANT HENRY WOODWARD, U. S. A., A FULLY EQUIPPED AMBULANCE PRESENTED BY HER TO THE AMERICAN RED CROSS, AND BY HER TO BE MAINTAINED IN FRANCE.

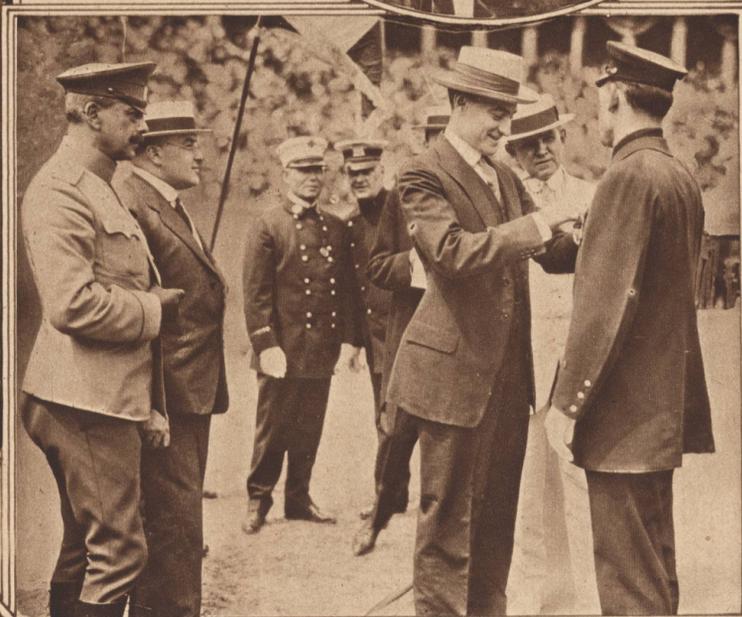

(© International Film Service.)

THE DUCHESS OF WELLINGTON

Knitting for Soldiers, the Duchess Being Particularly Interested in St. Dunstan's Hospital for Soldiers Blinded in Battle, Frequently Giving Over "Apsley House," London Seat of the "Iron Duke" for Entertainments in Their Behalf.

(© E. O. Hoppe.)

MAYOR MITCHELL PINNING THE HENRY P. WERTHEIM MEDAL ON FIREMAN JOHN DEVINE, H. AND L. COMPANY 3.

On the Mayor's Left Is Fire Commissioner Robert Adamson, While Immediately Behind the Mayor Are General Roop and Ambassador Bakhmetieff of the Russian Mission, Guests of Honor at the Annual Exhibition of the Fire Department.

(Times Photo Service.)

ISAAC GUGGENHEIM II.

Son of William I. Spiegelberg, Who, for Family Reasons, Has Taken the Name of His Grandfather, Isaac Guggenheim, Senior Member of the Well-known Firm of Guggenheim Brothers.

The Lad is Thirteen Years Old, and a Native of New York City.

(Ira L. Hill's Studio.)

EMMA DUNN, ACTRESS, PUSHING A CULTIVATOR IN HER WAR GARDEN AT MILFORD, CONN.

(Press Illustrating Service.)

AMERICAN SOLDIERS FRATERNIZING WITH THEIR ALLIES IN THE COURTYARD OF PEPINIERE BARRACKS, PARIS, WHERE THE AMERICANS ARE QUARTERED.

In the Group Are Russians, French Canadians, English, and Americans.

(© International Film Service.)