

AMERICAN TROOPERS IN FRANCE DISPLAY WITH PRIDE THEIR NEW REGIMENTAL MASCOT, A LION CUB. This and Accompanying Reproductions Showing American Troops Encamped on the French Front Are From French Official Photographs.

(Pictorial Press.)

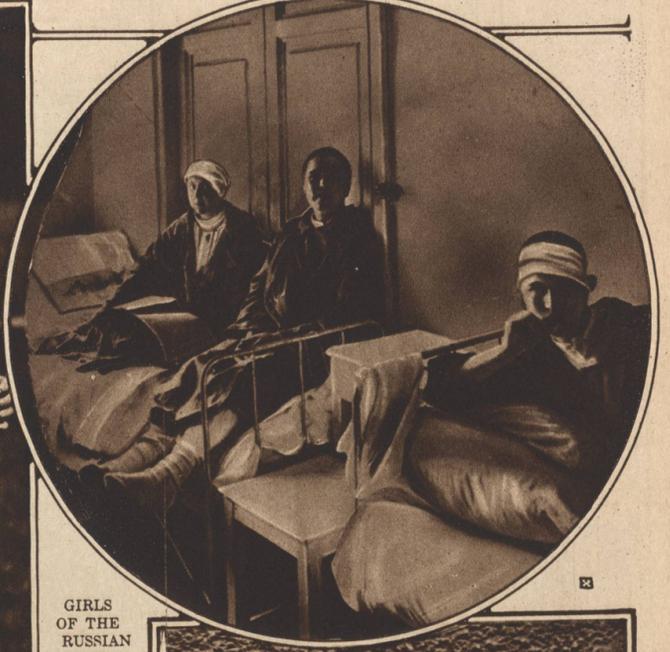

W. G. CLANCY, A TEXAN, AND GUNNER IN THE BRITISH ROYAL FIELD ARTILLERY, WITH THE AMERICAN FLAG WHICH HE CARRIED OVER THE TOP OF VIMY RIDGE. Clancy Is Permitted to Wear an American Flag On His Sleeve. (© International Film Service.)

AMERICAN SOLDIERS NEAR THE FRENCH FRONT COVER THEIR TENT WITH A "CAMOUFLAGE" OF BRANCHES TO HIDE IT FROM ENEMY AIRMEN. (Pictorial Press.)

(Pictorial Press.)

GIRLS OF THE RUSSIAN "BATTALION OF DEATH," RECRUITED FROM ALL CLASSES CONVALESCING IN A PETROGRAD HOSPITAL FROM WOUNDS RECEIVED IN BATTLE. (© International Film Service.)

3

AMERICAN SOLDIER IN GENERAL PERSHING'S CAMP WINS THE CONFIDENCE OF A LITTLE FRENCH MAID ORPHANED BY THE WAR. (Pictorial Press.)

(Pictorial Press.)

AMERICAN IN A TRENCH ON THE FRENCH FRONT PRACTICING THE THROWING OF HAND GRENADES UNDER THE INSTRUCTION OF FRENCH OFFICERS, ONE OF WHOM CAN BE SEEN IN THE FOREGROUND. (Pictorial Press.)

(Pictorial Press.)

AMERICAN OFFICERS HAVING A GENUINE AMERICAN ICE CREAM SODA AT THE FOUNTAIN OF THE "EAGLE HUT" OPEN BY THE Y. M. C. A. FOR THE UNITED STATES ARMY MEN IN LONDON.

GENERAL PERSHING, COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, AND GENERAL PETAIN, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE FRENCH ARMIES, SURROUNDED BY THEIR RESPECTIVE STAFFS AT THE EDGE OF A WOODS BEHIND THE FRENCH FRONT. (Pictorial Press.)

(Pictorial Press.)

AMERICANS BEHIND THE LINES IN FRANCE RECEIVING INSTRUCTIONS FROM FRENCH OFFICERS IN THE ART OF HAND GRENADES. (Pictorial Press.)

(Pictorial Press.)