The Hidden Part

of any piece of furniture, and especially of a Daybed, is more vital to the purchaser than the surface beauty. People of cultivated tastes are not likely to go wrong in picking the proper design or a pleasing finish or upholstery. But it requires an expert to judge the soundness of the wood and the quality of the cabinetwork. The reputation of Stickley as the greatest of living American furniture craftsmen has been built up on the solidity and integrity of his workmanship. You may rest assured, therefore, that in buying a Stickley Extension Daybed, at any price and in any of numerous styles, you are securing not only faultless beauty of design and the famous Chromwood finish, but a durability of construction that will insure a lifetime of comfort. Moreover, the ingenious "secret drawer" which when pulled out with a slight effort of one hand converts the day couch into a full-size double bed, is an exclusive feature not to be found in any other Daybed. To buy a Daybed without first seeing this collection would be a serious error. Delivery and terms arranged through your dealer (in any city.) Send for illustrated folder if you cannot call.

Out of date in one thing

Where 1917 men are behind the times

Men pride themselves on being up-to-the-minute. They want the latest and most improved automobile. In war they want—and must have—the latest type of gun.

When a thing has outlived its usefulness, they discard it for something better. That's progress. The six and twelve cylinder automobile has replaced the old-fashioned, high-wheeled bike. The modern machine gun has replaced the old-fashioned blunderbuss.

But in one thing many 1917 men are far behind the times. Their heels are out of date.

Leather heels are doomed

They still stick to old-fashioned leather heels. Leather heels are out of place on hard pavements, as everyone now knows. They are too hard. They jolt the spine with every step. They jar away precious energy. They have outlived their usefulness and are being discarded.

The up-to-date heel is the O'Sullivan Heel. It is made for city wear. City men must bring their heels up-to-date or they will pay for being behind the times by pounding away their energy.

How to save your energy

Save your heels, save your shoes—above all, save your nervous system. Don't pound away your health with every step you take. Wear O'Sullivan's Heels—they absorb the jolts and jars that wear you out. Of all heels they are the best suited to modern hard pavements and floors.

They are guaranteed to outlast any other heels. They will last three times as long as leather heels and will give uniformly satisfactory service to the very last. Because of our special process, O'Sullivan's Heels combine the greatest durability with the greatest resiliency. They are made of perfect heel material.

Buy your new shoes O'Sullivanized. Good dealers sell the latest style shoes with these heels already attached.

In black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Insist on O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

The leather heel is doomed. It jolts the spine. And it does not give long service.
