

AMERICAN TROOPS, JUST LANDED IN FRANCE, SWINGING THROUGH A TINY VILLAGE IN AN APPARENTLY ENDLESS STREAM, VIEWED ONLY BY A GROUP OF FRENCH OFFICERS AND A FEW VILLAGERS.
(© Committee on Public Information.)

AMERICAN SOLDIERS BILLETED IN A FRENCH VILLAGE BEHIND THE LINES BECOME PRIME FAVORITES WITH THE CHILDREN OF THE FAMILY AS WELL AS WITH ITS OLDER MEMBERS.
(© Committee on Public Information.)

FRENCH SHEPHERD TENDING A FLOCK MAINTAINED ON THE HOOF IN FRANCE FOR FUTURE CONSUMPTION BY THE AMERICAN TROOPS.
(© Committee on Public Information.)

LEO DITRICH-STEIN AND DOROTHY MORTIMER IN A SCENE FROM "THE KING," AT THE GEORGE M. COHAN THEATRE.
(Burke & Atwell.)

AMERICANS AT BAYONET PRACTICE "SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE," THEIR TENTS IN THE BACKGROUND ALMOST ENTIRELY CONCEALED BY A CAMOUFLAGE OF YOUNG TREES, CUT DOWN AND TRANSPORTED THERE FOR THE PURPOSE.
(© Committee on Public Information.)

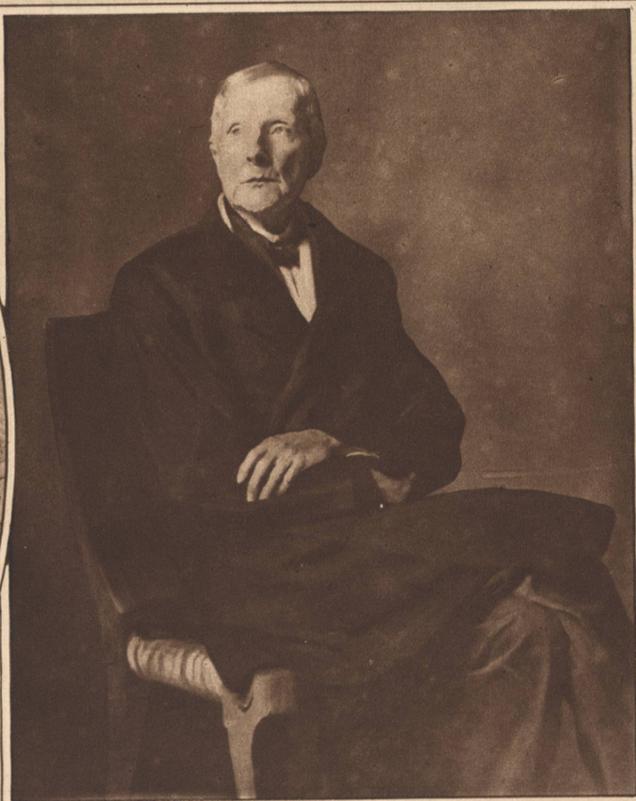

MRS. JOSEPH S. FRELINGHUYSEN, WIFE OF SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN OF NEW JERSEY, AND THEIR SON.
From a New Portrait by A. Muller-Ury.
(Mary Hopson.)

THE REV. FATHER B. CABANEL, Ranking Chaplain of the French Armies in Alsace, and the First Priest to Receive the Legion of Honor, Having Also Been Cited Not Less Than Seven Times in Official Dispatches. Father Cabanel is Now in the United States as a Member of the French Mission to This Country.

CHAPEL BUILT BY ALPINE CHASSEURS ON THE SLOPES OF HARTMANN'S-WEILER-KOPF, ALSACE, FOR USE BY FATHER CABANEL AND OTHER CHAPLAINS ON DUTY IN THAT VICINITY.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER. THE SECOND OF TWO PORTRAITS JUST COMPLETED BY JOHN SINGER SARGENT FOR JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER. This Portrait Is to Be Shown at the Winter Exhibition Annually Held by the National Academy of Design.
(Mary Hopson.)