Magic Centers of Security

There is a magic in Wilsnaps that sweeps aside the insecurity of the ordinary snap fastener.

Your gown may not be of this season's mode, its fit may not be absolutely correct. And yet it becomes you wondrously. But O! Madam, if the fastenings stay not closed, alas! how unhappy are you!

Wilsnaps have an excellence which enables them to hold silken folds securely. They resist tension yet quickly respond to the lightest touch!

Somewhere mid their skillfully coiled springs and delicately tempered metal, Wilsnaps hide an unvarying excellence that makes them the favorite of women who love the niceties of good dressing

Wilsnaps are sold where you shop, but if by any chance your retailer's stock is exhausted we will gladly send you the familiar orange card, containing twelve Wilsnaps, on receipt of 10 cents.

For Christmas: A Genuine Heath Jacket

A smart, loose-fitting, knit vest for men, following lines of rough-made garments favored by English sportsmen.

The Heath Jacket is a bit of Bond Street set down in America—a duplication of the garment the Englishman considers an indispensable part of his out-door wardrobe. It is made for service from beautiful heather yarn—rugged—loose fitting—gives warmth without weight. The Heath Jacket is for those who motor, golf, sail, shoot, fish, hunt, camp or tramp. It appeals to any business-man whose work or play takes him outdoors and who wants to be comfortable without the bother of a "great" coat. Cut extra long, it protects the kidneys and wards off the chills following exercise. In many households the Heath Jacket is already an indispensable part of the motor wardrobe, hunting outfit and golf equipment. The Heath Jacket will last a lifetime—yet, being without bulk, it slips easily into golf-bag, under the seat of the car or into any odd corner of your luggage. At the better shops $7.50 to $8.50 in dark oxford and the following heathers:—golden brown—wine, dark green and black tinge—green mix (Lovett heather)—red and light blue mix—light blue.

The Gift Enduring!

No one who has any example of genuine Stickley furniture in his home needs to be told that it grows finer as it grows older, like an Oriental rug, and shows its true mettle and craftsmanship by the actual test of wear alongside of other furniture. How peculiarly important it is to have these qualities in a Daybed, which must withstand constant usage both day and night, and become either a friend and comforter or an unqualified nuisance. The gift of a Stickley Extension Daybed to a dear relative or friend confers upon the recipient lifelong comfort and happiness. A few dollars means the difference between an ordinary short-lived Daybed and a Stickley masterpiece of impeccable design and faultless taste, the glowing Chromewald finish, and an integrity of craftsmanship which will preserve it not only for lifelong enjoyment but as an heirloom and object of pride to another generation. You will never regret seeing the Stickley collection of Daybeds (in a wide range of styles and price) before making your choice. Delivery and terms through your own dealer. If you cannot call, send for illustrated folder.
