

"THE HUMAN CACTUS."

Twenty Thousand Men of the Eighteenth, or Cactus, Division of the United States Army, Commanded by Brig. Gen. George H. Estes, Literally and Pictorially Presenting the Emblem of Their Division in Living Form, with Its Bristling Characteristics. The Complicated Details of This Remarkable Design, Conceived by Major E. B. Johns, Divisional Ordnance Officer, Were Worked Out by Colonel W. D. Anderson, Major M. B. Reynolds, and Lieutenant C. N. McEntyre of the 218th Engineers. (© E. B. Johns.)

WEARY AND FOOT-SORE BRITISH PRISONERS OF WAR.

Tramping Homeward from Germany, Reach Holland, One with His Shoes and Socks Beyond Repair and the Other His Sockless Feet Already in Sabots.

(International Film Service.)

AUSTRIAN STRAW OVERBOOTS FOR SNOW AND TO SAVE SHOE LEATHER DEMONSTRATED BY A BRITISH OFFICER.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

THE QUEEN OF THE NETHERLANDS REVIEWING A PARADE STAGED IN HER HONOR ON HER RECENT VISIT TO AMSTERDAM.

Standing with the Queen at the Doorway Are: The Mayor of Amsterdam, the Princess Juliana, and the Prince Consort, His Royal Highness Prince Henry of the Netherlands.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

LIEUT. COL. CHARLES WHITTLESEY,

Commander of the Famous "Lost Battalion," Receiving from Major Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, on the Boston Common, the Congressional Medal of Honor, Highest Military Decoration in the Gift of the United States.

(© Western Newspaper Union.)

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH OF THE BRITISH FLEET, FOLLOWING THE SIGNING OF THE ARMISTICE WITH TURKEY, PASSING THROUGH THE DARDANELLES TO CONSTANTINOPLE, THE TEMERAIRE LEADING, FOLLOWED BY THE LORD NELSON AND OTHER SHIPS OF THE AEGEAN SQUADRON. (International Film Service.)