

RELATIVES AND SWEETHEARTS MARCHING THROUGH THE STREETS OF HOBOKEN WITH THE SOLDIERS OF
THE 57TH COAST AR-TILLERY, THE OLD
9TH, NEW YORK,
First of the New York
National Guard to Return from the Front,
All Being Veterans
with Eighteen Months
of Service in France.
(© Western Newspaper Union.)

COLONEL JAMES
WHEELER,
Commander of the 57th Artillery,
Who Returned
with His Men
After Many Months on the Firing Line.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

MRS.
VINCENT ASTOR
Smilingly Serves a Soldier
in the New Y. M. C. A. Victory Hut, Battery Park, New York, Which She
Will Direct as She Did a Similar
Hut for Many Months in Brest, France.
(Times Photo Service.)

OFFICERS OF THE OLD
9TH, NEW YORK, GREETED
THROUGH THE PIER GATES
IN HOBOKEN.
(© Western Newspaper Union.)

DOUGHNUTS, JUST LIKE THE SALVATION ARMY LASSIES USED, TO MAKE FOR THE AMERICAN BOYS IN THE TRENCHES.
Now Served Homecoming Sailors and Enlisted Men at the New Salvation Army
Hut in Union Square.
(© Western Newspaper
Union.)

NO BROKEN
TIES HERE: THREE SETS OF BROTHERS, ALL NEW YORK BOYS, OF THE 57TH ARTILLERY, WHO RETURNED SAFE.
They Are, Left to Right: Joseph and Louis Condey, John and Harry Levy, Mark and Joseph Clendinis.
(© Western Newspaper
Union.)

MOTHERS AND SISTERS TRAMPING ALONG WITH THE MEN OF THE OLD 9TH NEW YORK ARTILLERY,
Home on the American Cruiser Huntington and to be Demobilized Immediately. Every Man a New Yorker.
(© Western Newspaper Union.)