Aquascutum Topcoats for Spring

Typically English models and fabrics

THERE never was anything like Aquascutum fabrics—except Aquascutums themselves! And this new Spring collection from London contains some fabrics you have not seen before. You may have seen the Aquascutum staples, but not the new subtleties of coloring that are specially Aquascutumed as each season comes along. Some of the new weaves are immense, and all are unusual. In fact, they are unusual topcoats anyway you look at them—easy, informal arrangements of fabrics that just lie quietly about the figure waiting for the weather man to spring something.

Lightweight shower-proof topcoats, comfortable as an easy shoe.

$42 to $55

New Eiderscutums, English Cassimeres, Duffle Fleeces, Tweeds, Cheviots, and Home-spuns. Colors include browns, Oxfords, greens, tans and heather mixtures.

ASTAR

FLORIA

TRESSE

ASTAR—Frock of TRICOLETTE in straightline blouse silhouette, with slightly elongated back, self strapping of the material in three rows is applied to the bottom of blouse and the skirt. Colors: White, cornflower, rose, navy blue, gray, black and walnut. . . . 59.50

FLORIA—A gown of most engaging charm developed in TAFFETA. An application of narrow silk braiding in deep pointed embroidered motifs is arranged about the bottom of skirt and at the cuffs, while a simple loop arrangement of the braiding outlines the round neckline. A girdle with sash gracefully accentuates the waistline. The chemisette and puffed cuffs are of tucked cream color batiste. . . . 75.00

TRESSE—Frock of FAILLE SILK, with the fashionable distended hipline ornamented with rows of pin tucking. The slender line top has a vestee of Georgette and collar and cuffs are of Georgette embroidered in contrasting colors. In faille silk this frock comes in navy blue, taupe, summer-taupe and beige. . . . 57.50
The same model "Tresse" may be had in a velour-finished tricotine in navy blue, white, tan.
