

THE BATTLE FLAGS OF THE FIFTH AND SIXTH REGIMENTS OF MARINES, bearing streamers enumerating the engagements in which these regiments participated in the fight for world freedom on the soil of France, are received for preservation by Major General George Barnett, Commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, at his headquarters in Washington.
(From Times Wide World Photos.)

GOVERNOR CALVIN COOLIDGE OF MASSACHUSETTS, MRS. COOLIDGE, and their sons, Calvin, Jr., and John, interrupted by a photographer in the midst of an "Exciting" Game of Parchesi in their Boston home.
(© International Film Service.)

Mlle. SUZANNE DAL PIAZ, daughter of John Dal Piaz, Director General of the French Transatlantic Line, now on a visit to the United States.
(© White Studio.)

MISS CONSTANCE JENNINGS as the Scarecrow in the "Home Harvest Ball," given by New York Society folk for the benefit of devastated France.
(Central News Service.)

THE END OF A PERFECT DAY: Miss Alice Fiske of New York and Mrs. Effie Williams of Boston returning at nightfall from the marshes of Horseneck Beach, Westport, Mass., after some hours of excellent sport.
(© International Film Service.)

DR. HARRY A. GARFIELD, United States Fuel Administrator, leaving the White House after a conference over the coal strike.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

ELIZABETH HINES in "See-Saw."
(Edward T. Hayes Studio.)

VICE PRESIDENT AND MRS. THOMAS R. MARSHALL. From a photograph taken on Thanksgiving Day at Old Point, Va.
(From Times Wide World Photos.)