

TWO ASPECTS OF WAR-TIME ENGLAND

In London they are now recruiting middle-aged men, who are shown here marching to the central depot accompanied by their wives.

Irish harvesters in East Yorks suddenly quit and went to Ireland on account of the registration act. College boys took their places.

(C) International News Service