

WOMAN DIES WITH ONLY HER DOG NEAR.

Found Dead, Her Dog Howling at Her Side. The woman, refined, once beautiful, was lonely. Her husband was in Cuba. She made no friends among her neighbors, but read French novels constantly—and drank heavily. Drink killed her.

Mary Healey, Once a Refined and Pretty Woman, Makes a Recluse of Herself in Her Husband's Absence, and Succumbs to Liquor.

MARY HEALEY was found dead, at 1:30 yesterday morning, on the stairs in the house at No. 503 West thirty-sixth street, that many families, in apartments of two rooms each, occupy. A butcher, going to his work, stumbled over her in the dark. Her little friend, a Scotch terrier, ill-kept and famished, howled. A tin can rolled down, rattling six pennies that the woman had placed in it. She intended, probably, to ask the old German woman's son, who asks the old apartment above hers, to buy beer for her. The old German woman would not have permitted her son to do that, Mary Healey had been drunk in the afternoon. Dr. Groat, who came with the ambulance from Roosevelt Hospital, said: "She died of alcoholism."

CROKER WILL CUT SHORT HIS DINING.

To Return to Town for the Tammany Executive Committee Meeting.

Richard Croker made arrangements yesterday to cut his dining short next Tuesday and return to the city in time for the meeting of the Tammany Hall Executive Committee in the evening.

FAMOUS ARCHITECTS ON TOUR OF INSPECTION.

They Are the Guests of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, En Route for California. Chicago, Aug. 25.—The architectural wonders of Chicago were viewed to-day by five of the leading architects of the world, composing the jury which is to select the plans for the buildings of California's university at Berkeley, when they came in view, and the highest in the country outside New York. The five gazed their eyes to their glasses, and stared at the famous skyscraper.

NO MORE CRUEL LOCKSTEP.

Laport, Ind., Aug. 25.—The lockstep system is to be abolished in the State Penitentiary here. The warden declares that the peculiar walk acquired through the lockstep marks a man as a convict forever afterward, and is a barrier to his reformation.

DESPERATE FIGHT WITH PEASANTS. WHITES RUSH TO BATTLE WITH 400 WETREACHED NEGROES.

Armed Blacks in a Swamp Near Darien, Ga., Defy the Authorities to Arrest Them, While Troops and Poses Hurry to the Attack—One Deputy Killed and Another Wounded.

Darien, Ga., Aug. 25.—Four hundred negroes are entrenched to-night in Forbes Swamp, eleven miles from here, armed and prepared to resist arrest by whites. Forty whites mounted, armed and determined, are on the way to the negroes' stronghold and sixty more, also armed, are moving by special train toward the rendezvous of the whites, in this county to-night. A swift steamer is on its way to Brunswick to pick up a party of fifty who are coming to aid in putting down the insurrection. Special Deputy Townsend was shot down by a negro at the camp to-day. For three days the town of Darien has been in the hands of State troops, called here to check the negroes who had rallied to prevent a prisoner from being carried to Savannah for safekeeping.

BRYAN TO TAKE THE STUMP FOR GOEBEL. BOY DROPPING GILD; TRAIL'S VICTIM GOES ON FISHING. A WADOB'S HEIRESS. Little Juanita Terry Was Sibl Sanderson's Niece. MOTHER A BARMAID. Her Father Left $6,000,000, of Which She Inherited Four-fifths.

Highland Falls, N. Y., Aug. 25.—When Arthur Slausen, aged thirteen, went fishing this afternoon along the bank of the Hudson six miles below here, he took with him Harry Rose, aged eight. An hour or two later the younger boy's father appeared where Slausen sat fishing alone. "Where's Harry?" he demanded. "I don't know," replied Slausen, sulkily. "When did he leave you?" persisted the father. "I don't know nothing about him," was the retort.

Louisville, Aug. 25.—Despite the protests of the anti-Goebel Democrats, Colonel Bryan will come to this State to speak for the Goebel ticket. He is expected to arrive here to-day at the Democratic headquarters at Frankfort by former Senator Blackburn, who had just received a letter from Mr. Bryan. He says he will be here in the latter part of September or early in October, at whatever time will be agreeable to the party leaders.

Despite this determination of Mr. Bryan the anti-Goebel people still declare their belief that he will back out at the last minute. They say if he should stump this State for the Goebel ticket Kentucky will go against him by a large majority in 1900. On account of the hot pace that has been set in the Kentucky contest, Congressman D. H. Smith has been appointed to assist Senator Blackburn as chairman of the Campaign Committee. The headquarters will probably be moved from Frankfort to this city.

Former Governor John Young Brown, the bolting Democratic nominee for Governor, will open his campaign to-morrow at Bowling Green. From reports from surrounding counties an immense crowd will be there to hear him. John Young Brown is the most vigorous campaigner in the State, and his address to-morrow he is sure to make into a Senatorial Blackburn and others who have been attacking him. The following notice has been issued by Judge John B. Hall and signed by many Democrats: "To the Hon. William Goebel and the ticket of which you are the head, and to the Hon. John Young Brown, the undersigned, Democratic voters of Hopkins County, Kentucky, respectfully ask that you resign the nomination for the State office which was given you by the convention at Louisville or at Lexington on the 21st of August, 1898, and that you accept of a new ticket nominated and a new organization of our party effected, which all loyal Democrats can support and bring to a glorious victory in November."

Found by a New Yorker on British Columbia's Coast, Probably That of an Indian Chief. Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 25.—Harlan H. Smith, who represents the Natural Museum of New York, has been on the coast for three months, endeavoring to make a collection of Indian relics. He arrived here this afternoon from the Harrison Bay district, where he made the strangest find of all—a well preserved mummy, which he believes to be more than one thousand years old. He found a book bearing a hieroglyphic inscription, and soon found it on the door of a hermetically sealed cave, cut out of rock. The body which he found within was preserved in the same manner as that of an Egyptian mummy. Professor Smith said upon opening the body was the work of experts. The odor noticeable when wrappings are removed from Egyptian mummies was not there. The face and hands were black, hard and dry. The mummy will be forwarded to New York.

Another Body Found Floating Off Coney. Fifth Death of the Kind in a Fortnight, and the Cause is Unknown to the Police. At Coney Island yesterday another body, that of a man, was found. It is the fifth death of the kind there within a fortnight. E. A. Watts, of No. 301 Fulton street, Brooklyn, was rowing near Coney Island Point yesterday with Andrew R. Ayers, of No. 125 Chatham street, and a notebook. They saw the body and towed it ashore. The man was about fifty-five years old. There was only three teeth in the upper right hand jaw. He wore a dark suit, white undershirt, a white outing shirt with narrow black stripes and gray woolen socks. He had not been doing long. It is believed he either fell or jumped off an iron steamboat. There was no mark of violence on his body. In the pockets were a carpenter's rule and a notebook with the inscription, "Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city." On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

W. K. Vanderbilt Gives a Big Dinner Dance. He Turns the Newport Golf Club Into a Fairland of Flowers and Light. Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.—Mr. William K. Vanderbilt gave the largest dinner dance in the history of recent years in Newport at the Golf Club to-night. The floral decorations were magnificent to lavishness and the scheme of electrical illumination was startling in its brilliancy and originality. Mr. Vanderbilt received his guests in the clubhouse, assisted by his sister, Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. The guests included nearly everybody of prominence in the social colony.

More Foes of Roberts. Five New Haven Churches Protest Against Seating Representative-Elect. New Haven, Conn., Aug. 25.—Petitions are in circulation in five local churches, three Baptist and two Congregational, urging members of the House of Representatives to vote against seating Representative Roberts, of Utah. The churches are the Calvary, the Howard Avenue and the First Baptist and the Dwight Place and United Congregational. The Rev. George B. Chittin, the former Yale football center, pastor of the Howard Avenue Baptist Church, is protesting against the seating of Roberts.

Visitor Mistaken for Burglar is Killed. Girl Retaining from Church Social Slain Unintentionally by Man from Whom She Sought Shelter. From 75, Aug. 25.—Edith Dunn, aged seventeen years, was fatally shot this morning by Tyne Grove, a neighbor, who mistook her for a burglar. Miss Dunn returned home from a church social at 2 o'clock. She attempted to gain entrance to her home, but could not arouse the family. She then went to the home of Grove, across the street. Grove, who is an oil producer, had several hundred dollars in the house and stayed up to guard the money. He heard a knock at the door and did not respond and repeated the question several times. Finally he grabbed his rifle and fired through the door. There was a scream and, making entrance, he found he had shot Miss Dunn. She died this afternoon. Before death Miss Dunn asked that Grove be exterminated. He is grief-stricken.

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

HER RAG DOLL LED A DOG TO BITE HER.

She Was Bitten on the Cheek by an Angry Bulldog. Little Girl Was Dancing with It in the Street When the Angry Brute Sank Its Teeth in Her Cheek.

Little Florence, daughter of Mrs. Christina Preston, was bitten in the cheek and chin by a bulldog in front of No. 400 East Twenty-fourth street yesterday. A pretty child, three and a half years of age, she was captivated by the admiration of her, and of the latter's friends in a circle by the gracefulness with which she made her rag doll dance. Workmen at the ditch in the street stopped for a moment, leaning on their shovels, to look at her. Her eyes danced with the rhythm of her steps and her hair was a mist in the wind. Suddenly the liquor shop keeper's bulldog appeared, furious or amazed. The children screamed and ran, the workmen raised their shovels and shouted.

Little Florence continued to dance. Perhaps, having a little mind, she understood the dog's and was not afraid. Perhaps the force of momentum in her little legs and arms prevented her from stopping when she wished to stop. The workmen aimed blows at the dog with their shovels. He avoided them, and May, drawing her little sister by the hand, ran into the hallway of the house where her mother lives, at No. 402 East Twenty-fourth street. They were safe, if May had had the presence of mind to shut the door. But she was terrified and the dog was at Little Florence's heels.

Her father left $6,000,000, of which she inherited four-fifths. One of the three persons killed on Tuesday at Seabright, N. J., when a train wrecked the phaeton in which they were driving, was an heiress of millions, the daughter of Juan Pedro Terry, and the niece by marriage of Sibyl Sanderson. She was only thirteen. Her name was Juanita Terressette Terry. Her mother, who died five years ago, began life as an English barmaid, and before marrying the Spanish American millionaire had an exciting career as the wife of Charles Bullard, otherwise known as "Piano Charley," a bank burglar, who ended his days in a Belgian prison.

Winslow-Havemeyer Wedding a Quiet One. The Lieutenant Being a Protestant, Church Ceremony is Abandoned. Newport, Aug. 25.—The marriage of Miss Havemeyer and Lieutenant Commander Cameron M.C.R. Winslow will not occur in St. Mary's Church here as expected. Bishop Harkins, of Providence, refused to issue a dispensation, Lieutenant Winslow being a Protestant. Powerful influences were brought to bear in Rome and elaborate arrangements for the ceremony had been made. Among the friends of the Havemeyer family whose aid was invoked was Archbishop Ireland, but word came to-day that the dispensation had been refused. The ceremony will take place on September 18, but it will be a quiet home wedding at Mrs. Havemeyer's villa, Friedhelm, Father Meehan, of St. Mary's Church, will officiate, and will be assisted by Father O'Farrell, of the Church of the Holy Innocents in New York. Miss Lillie Oelrichs will act as bridesmaid, the groom will be attended by his brother.

Porto Rico Committee to Meet Next Thursday. The Central Body Will Consider the Disbursing of All Funds Raised Here and Elsewhere. Notices have been issued by President Van Norden, of the Bank of North America, to the Central Porto Rican Relief Committee, of which Cornelius N. Bliss is chairman, asking its members to meet at the bank on Thursday next to consider the best means of collecting and disbursing the funds subscribed by local committees in this city, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The Mayor of the cities mentioned will be represented in the Central Committee. The subscriptions received by the Merchants' Association of New York yesterday amount to $600.45. The total sum raised by the association to date is $19,370.40. The National Bank of North America yesterday received subscriptions amounting to $1,125.95, and the total donations through the bank are $25,744.78. Acting Mayor Guggenheimer yesterday received $333 in subscriptions, and he has in all received $7,481.00.

Special Notices. Ask Your Haberdasher for the E. & W. Suit. Business Notices. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

More Foes of Roberts. Five New Haven Churches Protest Against Seating Representative-Elect. New Haven, Conn., Aug. 25.—Petitions are in circulation in five local churches, three Baptist and two Congregational, urging members of the House of Representatives to vote against seating Representative Roberts, of Utah. The churches are the Calvary, the Howard Avenue and the First Baptist and the Dwight Place and United Congregational. The Rev. George B. Chittin, the former Yale football center, pastor of the Howard Avenue Baptist Church, is protesting against the seating of Roberts.

Visitor Mistaken for Burglar is Killed. Girl Retaining from Church Social Slain Unintentionally by Man from Whom She Sought Shelter. From 75, Aug. 25.—Edith Dunn, aged seventeen years, was fatally shot this morning by Tyne Grove, a neighbor, who mistook her for a burglar. Miss Dunn returned home from a church social at 2 o'clock. She attempted to gain entrance to her home, but could not arouse the family. She then went to the home of Grove, across the street. Grove, who is an oil producer, had several hundred dollars in the house and stayed up to guard the money. He heard a knock at the door and did not respond and repeated the question several times. Finally he grabbed his rifle and fired through the door. There was a scream and, making entrance, he found he had shot Miss Dunn. She died this afternoon. Before death Miss Dunn asked that Grove be exterminated. He is grief-stricken.

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Wanted Ads. for Five Years. Ruthersford's School of Stenography, in the St. James Building, is one of the oldest in the city, and the rapid Gregg system is taught here. Mr. Frank Ruthersford, the principal, attends to the advertising and watches results closely. Here's what Mr. Ruthersford writes: "New York City, August 15, 1899. New York Journal, New York City: Gentlemen—I have regularly advertised my School of Shorthand and Typewriting in your paper for the past five years, and do not think I have missed a single Sunday issue during that period, and a notebook with the inscription, 'Bertha Ziemer, 40 Grand street, city.'" On the cover was "Eighty-fourth street, New York."

Acts gently on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels. Cleanses the System Effectually. Disperses Effectually Colds, Headaches, Overcomes Habitual Constipation. Permanently its beneficial effects. Buy the genuine—made by California Fig Syrup Co. Louisville, San Francisco, New York. For sale by all druggists, price 50c per bottle.

The Journal's Harlem Summer Resort Bureau. 250 West 125th St., near 8th Ave. will remain open until the end of the Summer season. Information concerning all Summer resorts, hotels or boarding houses, at the seashore, around the lakes or in the mountains. Rates for board and cost of transportation. Full particulars about reaching any place you select. Call or write. Open evenings.

Cheaper than Dirt, Pearlite. Carl H. Schultz's Sellers, Vichy, Carbonic.