You need not hate your sweater after it is washed!

It can be washed so that it will not shrink—so that it will not be lumpy where it should be flat, and flat where it should be full.

It is alkali and rubbing that make the wool fibres twist and tangle—make the material shrink and mat.

Wash it this way!

Wash your sweater the Lux way. Lux has no free alkali, and the creamy lather loosens the dirt without a bit of rubbing.

Try it on the "grimy" sweater that hangs in the closet—you won't wear it until it's cleaned and you have been afraid to wash it.

Wear every day, the sweater for which you just paid the cleaner so much. Don't be afraid of its getting soiled. When it does, pop it into a Lux bath—and it is new again!

Order Lux from your grocer or from any department store. It will not harm anything that pure water alone will not injure. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

How to wash your sweater
For white woolen sweaters, whisk the Lux flakes into a lather in boiling or very hot water. Put in your sweater and let it soak until the water is comfortable for the hands. Then work it about in the suds, but do not rub. Rinse in three waters the same temperature as that in which you washed it. Dissolve a little Lux in the last rinsing water; this leaves the sweater softer and fluffier. Do not hang up to dry. Spread on a bath towel and dry in the sun. For colored sweaters, the water should be cooler and they should be dried in the shade.

LUX Won't shrink Woolens!

A Special Offering of mahogany 4-poster beds $19.50 in the twin size, $22.50 full size. Springs and mattresses at proportionate reductions. One Week Only.
