

THE SEVENTY-NINTH DIVISION OF THE NEW NATIONAL ARMY PASSING IN REVIEW, A WEEK AGO, BEFORE SECRETARY OF WAR NEWTON D. BAKER AND GENERAL WILLIAM J. NICHOLSON ON THE PARADE FIELD AT CAMP MEADE, MD. This is the first time, so far as known, that any divisional unit of the New National Army, anywhere in the United States, has paraded in a body. Only a few months ago practically every man of the division was engaged in civilian pursuits. The reviewing stand can be seen in the left background.
(Times Photo Service.)

SECRETARY OF WAR BAKER AND GENERAL NICHOLSON, ACTING COMMANDER OF THE SEVENTY-NINTH DIVISION, IN THE REVIEWING STAND AT CAMP MEADE.
(Times Photo Service.)

GERMAN PRISONERS BRINGING IN THEIR OWN AND BRITISH WOUNDED AFTER THE BATTLE OF PASSCHENDAELE.

AUSTRIAN PRISONERS, Taken at Fegaro on the Piave, Moving to the Rear Under Italian Guard. Most of the Men Have Been Severely Wounded and Have Received First Aid Attention at an Italian Red Cross Station.
(Central News Service.)

ITALIAN TROOPS IN THEIR FIRST-LINE TRENCH ON THE RIGHT BANK OF THE PIAVE. So far as known this is the first photograph to reach this country showing the soldiers of Italy in their new positions on Italian soil against the Teutonic invaders.
(Central News Service.)

(Times Photo Service.)

CHILDREN OF THE CHAPEL OF INTERCESSION, TRINITY PARISH, SINGING CHRISTMAS CAROLS ON CHRISTMAS EVE AT THE TOMB OF CLEMENT MOORE, WHO WROTE "THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS," IN TRINITY CEMETERY, BROADWAY AND 155TH STREET.

TROPHIES CAPTURED BY THE FRENCH AT CHEMIN DES DAMES ASSEMBLED AT SOISSONS IN FRONT OF THE RUINED CHURCH OF ST. JEAN DES VIGNES. The soldiers in the foreground, who form the Guard of Honor, have been selected from those who took part in the victorious battle.
(Underwood & Underwood.)

FORMER NEW YORK CITY NATIONAL GUARDSMEN SINGING CHRISTMAS CAROLS AT CAMP WADSWORTH.
(Bert L. Forsee.)