

SHELTER AND THE UNIVERSAL MOTHER AT LAST.

A Dutch Red Cross Nurse Attending an Ill Child Who Had Just Reached the Netherlands, Having Walked with Her Mother and Brother All the Way from Douai, France, to Escape the Cruel German Rule.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

AGED FRENCH PEASANT,
After Four Years of Exile in Holland, Turns His Face Homeward Once More, the Teutonic Clouds Over His Native Land Having at Last Been Dispelled.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

A SIMPLE FRENCH CORPORAL, JOSEPH FOILLERET, Receiving from General Gratier the Cross of the Legion of Honor, Having, on Nov. 4, Volunteered to Cross the Sambre Canal Alone on a Sack of Straw, Only to Find Himself Facing Twenty-nine Germans, All of Whom He Intimidated and Captured.

(International Film Service.)

REFUGEES FROM NORTHERN FRANCE, WHO HAVE SPENT THE PERIOD OF GERMAN OCCUPATION IN HOLLAND, ABOUT TO RETURN TO THEIR OLD HOMES.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

AMERICANS, HOMEWARD BOUND BY WAY OF ENGLAND, CULTIVATING THAT "TERrible TEA HABIT," UNDER EVIDENTLY DELIGHTFUL CIRCUMSTANCES, AT AN AMERICAN Y. M. C. A. HOSTESS HUT AT STAMFORD, ENGLAND.

MISS HELEN CLAY FRICK, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Frick, in the Red Cross Shop Conducted by Her and Associates in the Haggin Fifth Avenue Mansion.

(Paul Thompson.)

MISS ALICE A. DE LAMAR, Daughter of Captain Joseph R. De Lamar, Who, Under Her Father's Will, Inherits $10,000,000, in the Uniform of a Member of the New York Woman's Motor Corps Red Cross Unit.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ON LEAVE AND AMERICAN "Y" GIRLS in Merry Pantomime Before the American Y. M. C. A. Casino at La Bourboule, France, One of the Latest Rest Period Areas Opened Under the Red Triangle.