

DRAMA Miss George Plays in Smart Little Comedy

"Just to Get Married" Not "Caustic," but Highly Entertaining and Admirably Acted.

MAXINE ELLIOTT'S THEATRE—Just to Get Married, a comedy in three acts, Miss George Hamilton.

Why do playwrights delight in calling their plays something they are not? was a question suggested by Miss George Hamilton's production in the Maxine Elliott Theatre yesterday of Miss George Hamilton's "Just to Get Married."

The same evening chance brings them together again in a railway station. He is returning to London, she is going there to work and he is independent.

The principal scene is that in which Emeline Veary makes and Adam Lankester receives her declaration that she does not love him.

Several times the dogs drove the fox to the edge of the Brookline Kennels, where the going was very hard and jumping extremely dangerous.

For four miles straight away led the pack toward Oyster Bay, then circled and passed the Brookline Kennels, where the going was very hard and jumping extremely dangerous.

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS AMERICAN TENNIS PLAYERS LOSE DAVIS CUP MATCHES

Larned Downed by Heath, Weakest of the Australasians, and Wright Is Beaten by Brookes.

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand, Monday.—The American challengers lost both of today's matches for the Davis International Lawn Tennis Cup.

Norman E. Brookes, captain of the Australasian team, defeated Wright, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. Larned's showing against "Tod" Heath was even more disappointing to the American sympathizers.

The weather was excellent and the attendance large. The loss of two matches leaves the outlook dismal for the Americans.

To local followers of tennis news of the defeat of William A. Larned, seven times champion of the United States, came like a lightning stroke from a clear sky.

The principal scene is that in which Emeline Veary makes and Adam Lankester receives her declaration that she does not love him. The scene was played by Miss George Hamilton and Mr. Harding with fine poise and discretion.

DENNING IS TOO FAST FOR MOREAU

Local Middleweight's Skill in Ring Is Prevails Over France's "Champion de Boxe."

If Marcel Moreau, the middleweight champion of France, conqueror of "Harry" Lewis and numerous French and English fighters, is the best that can be sent against the scrappers in this country, it is necessary for the land of flowers to wait awhile and re-shuffle its fighting deck, as "Jack" Denning, of the Fairmont Athletic Club yesterday afternoon, in a ten round contest, outpointed him in no unmistakable manner.

Moreau came over with a great reputation and in his preliminary work at the Polo A.A. was a good impression, apparently being the possessor of a very dangerous punch and a fair amount of science. He has the former, but is entirely too slow to make use of it when pitted against fighters of Denning's calibre.

When the two men faced each other in the ring Moreau apparently out-weighted his opponent by five pounds. They were fighting at catchweight, but the Frenchman was said to have scaled 154 pounds. He is of medium height, with remarkable chest and shoulder development, and is as much like a typical Frenchman as "Sailor" Burke. There are no marked peculiarities in his style, though apparently keeping himself well covered he has little defence and Denning had no difficulty in hitting him.

Before the end of the second round it was obvious that the New York boy would be the victor, for Denning's left hand did not succeed in putting over one of his very vicious looking right hand punches. Denning kept leading lefts to the face, followed by rights to the stomach, while Moreau was very wild in his attempts and had no semblance of speed. Toward the end of the fourth round the local boy opened up his opponent's forehead, while Denning, in a far cry on him, Moreau was never allowed to bore in or set himself and was not given an opportunity to use his right to advantage, as Denning kept him boxing.

Punched relentlessly at times, Moreau got so rattled that all he could do was to lunge at his man with both arms extended. But he never seemed in danger of being knocked out, as Moreau to his wonderful physique and courage.

The main event was preceded by six preliminary bouts. "Danny" Daniels, in thirty seconds of windmill fighting, put over a lucky punch which knocked out "Battling" Sampson, the silver super-flyweight of fighting, in his opponent. The referee stopped a very poor exhibition between "Jimmy" Jarvis and Emil Blazar in the third round to save Blazar, and repeated in the next bout when "Ed" Sweetser, "Young" McGowan the worse for wear. The semi-final was six rounds between "Young" Ready, of New York, and "Scotty" Welch, of Glasgow.

Los Angeles, Cal., Monday.—"Joe" Rivers, of Los Angeles, the Mexican featherweight, knocked out "Frankie" Conley, of Kenosha, Wis., to-day in the eleventh round of what was to have been a twenty round bout, at Vernon. At no time did Conley have a chance and only once, in the first round, when he put a stiff left to Rivers' jaw as the latter was backing away and sent him to the floor, did he land a blow that seriously interfered with Rivers.

It was one of the fastest fights between featherweights yet seen in the Vernon ring. Rivers fought all around Conley. His favorite combination was a left jab and a vicious right to the face. In the seventh Rivers had Conley all but out, but could not land the knockout. Conley's face was an unpleasant sight. His eyes were nearly closed, and he was all out, but Rivers bore but one mark, a slight cut on the nose.

It was seen as early as the third round that Conley had no chance, and it simply was a matter of how long he could endure the terrible punishment Rivers was inflicting. Conley constantly carried the fight to his opponent, only to receive the worst beating of his wing career. In the eleventh, after fighting for a few minutes in the centre of the ring, Rivers rushed and threw Conley's head back with a terrific right to the jaw. Rivers kept after him and landed left and right to body and face until Conley fell limp over the ropes, head downward, and suffered his first clean knockout. Rivers is now in line for a match with the winner of the Atwell-Kilbane fight, which is to be fought at Vernon on February 6.

"Bobby" Waugh, of Texas, knocked out "Jimmy" Giblin, whom "Tom" Jones regarded as a possible successor to Volgaast, in the eighth round of a fifteen round preliminary. Waugh and "Freddie" Welsh have been matched for twenty rounds at Vernon on January 13.

Los Angeles, Cal., Monday.—"Ad" Wolgast, champion lightweight pugilist of the world, is seriously ill to-day at the home of his manager, "Tom" Jones, at Venice, being threatened with pneumonia. He contracted a serious cold on an automobile trip.

The day before he was to fight "Freddie" Welsh, on Thanksgiving Day, Wolgast underwent an operation for appendicitis. Recently he had made several trips from Venice to Vernon to see pugilistic friends in training. He is believed to have contracted a cold on one of the trips.

Los Angeles, Cal., Monday.—"Jack" Lester, of Cle Elum, Washington, "Tommy" Burns Australian white hope, who held the Australian heavyweight championship for a while, lost on a foul in the Stadium fight. Lester faced an Australian heavyweight, Smith by name, and was disqualified in the fourth round. Lester was the only one out of a wide margin when the foul was committed.

Mohawk Runner Wins Yonkers Road Race

A. Roth First in Field of 93, with Morningside A.C. Best Team in Hollywood Inn Run.

Most of the residents of Yonkers, it seemed, turned out yesterday afternoon to watch A. Roth, of the Mohawk Athletic Club, win the first annual road race held under the auspices of the Hollywood Inn Athletic Club. As this athlete from the Bronx raced down the slippery hill in Broadway toward Getty square he had to pick his way through a lane of ten thousand persons, while all along the six miles or thereabouts of the course there were many thousands more to cheer the ninety-three contestants who made up the field. Roth started with one minute and twenty seconds handicap, but was feeling in such fine fettle that he did not need any where near this allowance. Only two of the scratch men were able to beat his actual time, and he had no trouble in winning by a margin of more than one hundred yards.

Among the Irish-American Athletic Club, was the fastest of the pack in the elapsed time from which he started. He made the Journey in 31m. 56s., finishing one minute later than the winner in tenth place. Harry Smith, of the Pastimes, was the only other runner who showed faster running than Roth, but all he could get was fifteenth position. G. F. Holden and R. Springfield, two Yonkers runners, were the others on scratch, but they finished twenty-ninth and thirty-fifth, respectively.

In addition to the prizes for the first five to finish there were other trophies galore. The principal one among them was that for the team of five which had the lowest total. There was a great hustle for this
